Fair Dealers Put On Party To Woo Wayward Solons

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—The administration turned on the heat today for passage of a bill to ban job discrimination, following President Truman's plea to Democratic congressmen to fall in step with the entire "fair deal."

Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) summoned the House rules committee to hearings on a measure to establish a fair employment practices commission to enforce rules forbidding discrimination against job-seeking negroes and others.

The president and the party high command last night sugarcoated their calls for voting regularly with bountiful food and drink and spiced them with talk of Vice President Barkley's romance.

The occasion was a pep rally held by the Democratic national committee to let the party's Congress members rub elbows with administration leaders.

House Speaker Rayburn started the ball rolling with a recital of how he and the vice president started their congressional careers 37 years ago, and went on to say how hard it has been to keep pace with Barkley.

Then, referring to Barkley's recent marriage to Mrs. Carleton Hadley of St. Louis, Rayburn—himself a bachelor—said: "He's overdone himself."

The irrepressible Barkley retorted in the same vein.

"I'm proud of what I've done the last month or so," he said. "I started a trend in this country. There have been more outstanding weddings since I married Nov. 18 than in any similar period in the history of the country."

He said Clark Gable, New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer, "Miss America," and Dick Tracy of the comic strips have followed him in matrimony and that Secretary of the Treasury Snyder's daughter, Druce, soon will fall in step. Even the Methodist bishop who officiated at his wedding "caved in," he added.

"I swear I don't think Sam Rayburn can resist the trend much longer," Barkley declared.

"I was in such a setting that President Truman arose to say he will 'keep fighting' for the entire Democratic platform 'as long as I live.'"

He did not mention specifically the civil rights proposals which cost him four states of the "solid south" in 1948. However, they are high up in the list of "fair deal" goals and are included in the party platform.

The Army, the Red Cross and volunteers have joined in the rescue operations and work to strengthen weakened levees at many points along the rain-swollen rivers. The flood front covers areas along the Ohio and Wabash rivers, the two biggest in the Midwest's threatening streams, as well as several smaller rivers.

The Ohio spilled into the main street of Roselare, Ill., yesterday and some 60 families fled their homes.

Sofia Claims Arrest Of 64 Tito Spies

Sofia, Bulgaria, Jan. 13 (P)—Bulgarian authorities say they have arrested 64 alleged Yugoslav spies.

The government press department said 70 Yugoslav security policemen were sent into this country recently to spy for Marshall Tito's anti-Soviet Communist regime. Sixty-four were arrested and the spokesman said Bulgarian police expected to catch the other six soon.

Three of the arrested were identified as Dimitar Goranov, said to have been a former officer in the prewar Yugoslav Royal army; Nikola Kolev, former merchant, and Peter Petrov, ex-royal subofficer.

The U. S. destroyer Bausell had sailed alongside the damaged Flying Arrow from the 350-mile voyage from the point off the Yangtze where the gunboat shelled her Monday.

As the Bausell turned to steam away, Capt. David Jones of the Flying Arrow sent off a message to the destroyer's commander. Jones thanked him for a job well done.

The voyage northward was without incident. There was no trace of Nationalist gunboats.

Wellington, New Zealand, Jan. 13 (P)—Wellington's citizens fled into the streets this morning as three minor earth tremors set church bells ringing, dishes clattering and doors banging. No serious damage was reported.

Rains Increase Flood Dangers

Ohio Valley Alerted As Rivers Rise

(By The Associated Press)

Flood dangers appeared mounting today in many midwest river areas as more rain splashed over a wide belt and threatened further damage.

Weather bureau officials said no break appeared in the warm, moist gulf air which is causing the steady rains or drizzle over the lower Mississippi and Tennessee valleys. They said there was a possibility of heavier rains over the flood areas during the day. Forecasters said thunderstorms in Arkansas were moving northward.

Meanwhile, more than 4,000 persons have fled their homes from the surging rivers and streams in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Missouri. But hundreds of others have refused to move to higher ground.

Big Cities Feel Coal Pinch; No Emergency Yet, Truman Declares

By HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce today reported a "critical" coal shortage in 26 cities and on the heels of President Truman's new denial that the three-day mine week has created a coal emergency.

The chamber statement apparently was prepared before Mr. Mr. Truman's indication to his news conference yesterday that he has no immediate plans to force full production in the coal fields by using his Taft-Hartley Act emergency injunction powers against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

The chamber reported that it had surveyed areas in 10 "principal bituminous coal using states," with this result:

"With an average of less than seven days' supply in dealers' hands in 36 average sized towns surveyed, telegraphed advices from chambers of commerce in these cities reveal that widespread suffering and hardship has been averted so far primarily because of the unseasonably mild weather."

The statement said that in some places such hardship is "only a matter of hours away."

In Chicago, the American Retail Coal Association said Mr. Truman's statement "will surprise those citizens who are now burning wood because coal is unavailable."

Joseph E. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Association, who has been saying all along that there is an emergency, commented that the president's statement hasn't changed his mind.

Before Mr. Truman's news conference, Moody had released figures to show that coal stocks were at the lowest level in at least 15 years.

The southern operators said there was no record of any time when reserves fell below the 22-400,000 tons they estimate are above ground now.

"If there's another strike," Moody said, "we'll go right through the bottom."

Other operators declared that Mr. Truman had called an emergency and used the Taft-Hartley Act to halt a Lewis strike on April 3, 1948 when there was a stockpile of 43,000,000 tons available above ground.

New Navy Boss Has Senate OK

Sherman Takes Over Denfeld's Post

By EDWARD B. HAKINSON
Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—After a squally start, the nomination of Adm. Forrest P. Sherman as chief of naval operations appeared headed for clear sailing in the senate today.

Approval of Sherman as the navy's top uniformed officer was expected before nightfall—but possibly not until Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) gets off one more blast at the Pentagon policy which helped bring about the removal of Adm. Louis E. Denfeld from the post Sherman is taking over.

McCarthy's objection blocked the unanimous senate consent asked by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) yesterday for immediate consideration of Sherman's appointment.

Tydings hurried to the floor with that request after Sherman had received a unanimous recommendation from the senate armed services committee at the end of a hectic day. Tydings heads the committee.

McCarthy told reporters he had kept the senate from voting on Sherman immediately not because he opposes the appointment, but because he "may have something to say about protecting congressional witnesses from punishment for telling the truth."

He referred to Denfeld's case. Denfeld was shunted out as chief of naval operations last fall after he had joined other admirals in criticizing Pentagon policy before the house armed services committee. His removal brought charges of "reprisal" from McCarthy and others.

FOUNDRY CLASS BURNED
Saginaw (P)—One of the students in William O. Olson's foundry class at Arthur Hill trade school poured molten metal into a wet mold Thursday, and the resulting explosion splattered him and 17 classmates with hot metal. Several youths were given first aid, but none was severely burned.

FAIR LOSSES MONEY
Petoskey (P)—A money-losing venture, the Emmet county fair remains in existence for at least another year. Supervisors Thursday voted 11 to 10 for continuance of the exposition and set up a special committee to handle the project.

Men Believed All Dead Inside Rammed Craft

Only 15 Saved After Thames Collision

Chatham, England, Jan. 13 (P)—The British Navy tonight gave up for dead the 52 men believed trapped in the rammed and sunken submarine Truculent.

Chatham, Eng., Jan. 13 (P)—Fifty-two men were feared dead aboard the rammed and sunken submarine Truculent today.

Divers and frogmen in web-footed rubber suits tapped out messages on the hull of the sunken undersea raider, but up to this afternoon apparently had received no response.

Vice Adm. G. B. Middleton of the Chatham Navy yard posted a notice saying "great loss of life" is feared.

Word from rescue craft at the scene indicated hope was fading swiftly for the men still believed to be aboard the submarine which went to the bottom of the Thames estuary last night after she was rammed by the iron-clad prow of a Swedish tanker.

Five Airmen Killed
Nine are known dead. Three of these were picked up last night after the collision and six more bodies were found today. Fifteen men were rescued.

In addition, all five men aboard a Lancaster rescue plane were killed early today in a take-off crash at a Royal Air Force station in Scotland. The plane had been sent to pick up divers for the Truculent rescue operation.

At noon today, 17 hours after the Truculent settled in the Thames estuary 54 feet below the surface, an admiralty spokesman announced:

"At the moment no indication has reached us of answers to signals by tapping or other means, by anyone who might be inside the submarine."

The Truculent met disaster last night. The 645-ton Swedish tanker Divina, from Stockholm, was coming in 55 miles due East of London. The Truculent, bound for Sheerness dockyards, had been out since yesterday morning on a trial run.

Down In Minute
The prow of the Divina, equipped to break through ice, rammed the sub's torpedo compartment and the undersea craft, which had been running on the surface, sank within a minute.

Most of the 18 men accounted for apparently had been either in the conning tower or the control room, immediately below. The other 58 apparently were trapped below.

This morning one of the 50 lifeboats seeking traces of life in the hulk radioed: "Believed survivors still on board sub." But the admiralty said it had nothing to bear this out.

Court Clears Lansing Bribe Case Appeals

Lansing, Jan. 13 (P)—Cleaning up appeals from the first big graft case of the Carr-Sigler grand jury, the state supreme court yesterday upset the conviction of one legislator and upheld a second.

The reversal of conviction was won by former Rep. Martin A. Kronk, Detroit Democrat, the only man of 20 convicted to be granted a new trial by the supreme court.

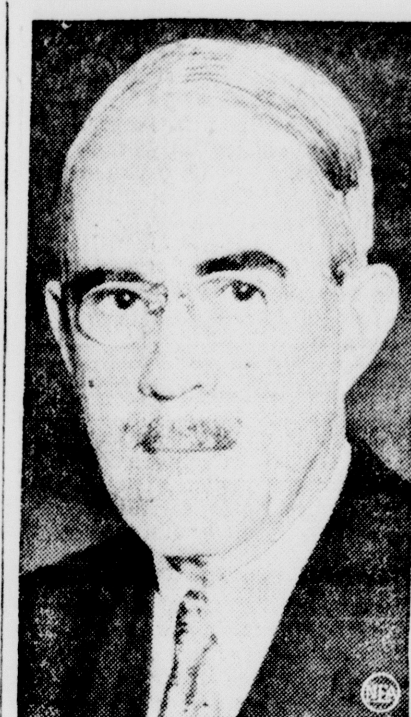

The appeal of former Rep. Adam W. Sumeracki, Detroit Democrat, was rejected.

Earlier this week the supreme court upheld the convictions of three finance company executives and seven former legislators, found guilty in 1944 of a bribery conspiracy on a finance company law.

Reversing the conviction of Kronk, the court held unanimously that Circuit Judge John Simpson of Jackson, the trial judge, was wrong in ruling out testimony of Kronk's good reputation and character.

Death Takes Mother Of John L. Lewis At 91

Springfield, Ill. (P)—Mrs. Ann Laura Watkins Lewis, mother of labor leader John L. Lewis, died at her home Thursday after a long illness. She was 91.

WATER MAN — Morris L. Cooke, above, prominent Philadelphia engineer, has been named by President Truman to head a seven-member commission to map a federal campaign to develop and conserve the nation's water supply.

Arson Claimed In Tragic Fire

Patient Says She Set Blaze Fatal To 41

Davenport, Ia., Jan. 13 (P)—A young woman patient who admitted setting a mental ward fire that killed 41 women because "I thought I could escape if the building would burn," is to be arraigned tomorrow on a charge of murder.

Mrs. Elnora Epperly, 23, of Rock Island, Ill., was charged by Scott County Attorney Clark O. Filseth yesterday with "murder committed in the perpetration of arson." She was held in the Scott county jail.

Authorities said they were checking further into the story told by the small, attractive brunette, who was a patient in St. Elizabeth's mental ward at Mercy hospital. The mental ward was destroyed by fire last Saturday morning.

Dr. Werener M. Hollander, Davenport psychiatrist, said Mrs. Epperly was "schizophrenic." He added her story was typical of her type of patient.

(Schizophrenia is a form of mental derangement resulting in inaction or simulating of qualities one does not possess).

Filseth said Mrs. Epperly told him:

"I thought my husband was dead. He would never come and see me. I was going crazy with fear and thought I could escape if the building would burn."

She said she ignited the curtain in her room to start the blaze.

Beaver Trapping Season Opened In Upper Peninsula

An open season for spring beaver trapping in the Upper Peninsula was approved today by the conservation commission.

For the first time since 1946, beaver trappers in the peninsula will be allowed a 16-day season beginning at noon, March 25. Lower Peninsula trappers may collect pelts beginning at noon, March 20.

Bag limits will be six beaver and two otter in the Upper Peninsula and three beaver and two otter in the Lower Peninsula. Trappers will be limited to 15 traps per license in both peninsulas.

In both peninsulas certain specified areas will be held closed. These include a strip across the center of the Lower Peninsula, Drummond Island, and the northern part of Marquette county.

Death Penalty Put Back On Statute Books By Moscow

Moscow, Jan. 13 (P)—The death penalty returned yesterday to Soviet Russia's statute books after an absence of almost two years.

The local press published an edict by the presidium of the supreme Soviet decreeing revival of the penalty for "traitors to the homeland, spies and saboteurs." For other crimes the death sentence still will not be given.

(Speculation at once arose in London that the return of the death penalty presaged new prosecutions similar to the 1937 Moscow treason trials.)

Ground Fall Fatal To Negaunee Miner

Negaunee, Mich., Jan. 13 (P)—Nestor Blomquist, 54, of Negaunee, was killed today when a fall of ground struck him while he was working in the Cambria-Jackson mine of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co.

The miner was engaged in underground trimming operations at the time of the accident, company officials said. It was the first mining fatality on the Marquette range this year.

Russia Gobbling Up China, Acheson Says

By DON WHITEHEAD
Washington, Jan. 13. (P)—Secretary of State Acheson, after reporting that Russia is gobbling up big chunks of China, today waded into the fourth straight day of his defense of administration foreign policy.

He faced the senate foreign relations committee to answer behind closed doors another round of questions dealing mainly with the United States government's position in Formosa and elsewhere in the troubled Far East.

Before Acheson reached Capitol Hill, some Republicans renewed their moves to get a review of the Pacific strategic situation from the military leaders.

A Republican committee member said Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) will be asked formally during the day to summon Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and General Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

A report to the house foreign affairs committee from an aide on its staff says the Chinese Nationalists might be able to hold out on the island of Formosa six to 18 months without U. S. help.

Acheson's first two rounds of defending administration policy were in closed sessions with the senate foreign relations committee and the house foreign affairs committee on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Yesterday he had a public audience for his defense. He warned them against "folly or foolish adventures" which would hide America's real interest in protecting the independence and self development of the people of Asia.

Acheson said Chiang Kai-shek's

Nationalist government failed because the Chinese people "in their misery" lost patience with Chiang.

Because of this despair, he said, the Communists were able to capitalize on the situation.

The secretary made it clear the United States does not intend to become involved in Asia in a military way.

Outside of Japan, Okinawa and the Philippines, he went on, "it must be clear that no person can guarantee the other Asiatic areas against attack."

King Of Egypt Nips Romance

Farouk Wants Girl, 16, For Himself

Shannon Airport, Ireland, Jan. 13. (P)—The other man in Egypt's reported royal romance was flying back to the United States today with no bride and "no comment" for the press.

Zaki Hashem, 27-year-old Egyptian, stopped for an hour here today on his way from Cairo back to his old job as an economist with the United Nations secretariat. He is due in New York at 6 p. m. (EST) today.

Persistent reports leaking from heavily-censored Egypt say that 29-year-old King Farouk ordered Hashem to call off his scheduled Dec. 8 marriage to Narriman Sadek, 16, so the king himself could marry the beauty.

Though the young man gave Rome's reporters the cold shoulder, special correspondent Reynolds Packard of the New York Daily News cabled that Hashem told him Miss Sadek was being held incommunicado in Egypt and was not allowed to tell him goodbye.

Packard said he sat next to Hashem on the plane trip from Cairo to Rome and that Hashem told him:

"I don't know where she is. I haven't seen her in six weeks and there is no way I can get in touch with her."

The news said Hashem would continue on his U. N. job for some weeks and then would be sent to Moscow as Egypt's minister to Russia.

The informant who first reported the news of Farouk's action said the king still plans to marry Miss Sadek. But this source said the monarch will delay the ceremony for some time until the world's tongues quit wagging about the manner of his wooing.

Nationalist China Hangs On To Seat In UN Security Council

Lake Success, Jan. 13 (P)—Nationalist China is expected to hang onto a big power seat in the United Nations security council for the present.

The 11-nation council meets at 3 p. m. (EST) with a vote in prospect on a Soviet proposal to kick out the Nationalists now and open seat for Mao Tse-tung's Red Chinese regime.

Also before the council is a threat of a second Russian walk-out of the week and the third in council history if it refuses to unseat the Nationalists right now. Ouster at the present time seems most unlikely.

STOCKS SLUMP
New York, Jan. 13 (P)—Continued selling waves swept over the stock market today resulting in losses of fractions to as much as 3 points.

Trading was well over a rate of 2,000,000 shares for the entire day.

Jury Decides For Plaintiff

Alton Usher Given $300 Judgement

After three hours deliberation a Delta county circuit court jury yesterday afternoon reported finding for the plaintiff, Alton Usher, and awarded a judgment of $300 to him in his action against Mrs. A. C. Christiansen, Pine Ridge, proprietor of the A. C. Mink Farm.

Usher claimed that Mrs. Christiansen had failed to pay him for his work at the mink farm under the terms of an agreement made in October 1948. The defense claimed that no such agreement for compensation was made and that Usher was "paid in full" for his services in Dec., 1948.

The jury retired shortly before 11 a. m. yesterday and, with time out for lunch, reported its verdict at 3 p. m. to Judge Glenn W. Jackson.

Comprising the jury were the following persons:

Mary Stock, Gladstone; Roy A. Bergman, Bark River; Minnie Cole, Brampton township; Daniel Pearson, Pisen township; Margaret P. Norton, Escanaba township; William R. Watchorn, Fairbank township; Emma Peterson, Garden township; George Brown, Masonville township; Lillian Hillstrom, Wells township; Nels Erickson, Mrs. Caroline Johnston and Earl Haddy of Escanaba city.

This afternoon the court has scheduled respondents who pleaded guilty to criminal charges earlier in the term.

Court will resume Feb. 11, continued to that date to hear two cases, one a violation of parole, and the other contempt of court for non-payment of alimony.

Artificial Breeding Programs Expanding In Upper Peninsula

Thousands of bovine mothers throughout the Upper Peninsula never met the fathers of their calves. Despite this social lapse cooperation was probably involved.

Nearly 20 per cent of the 67,000 dairy cows in the area are bred artificially according to W. B. Lutz, Michigan State College extension dairyman. The 1500 farmers owning these cows are members of cooperative Artificial Breeding Associations. All of the eighteen such associations were organized in the past three years. The advantages of improved calves from better sires and lower breeding costs are chiefly responsible for the rapid development of artificial breeding.

Menominee was the first county to organize with 500 farmers breeding 5000 cows artificially at the present time. They are serviced by the Badger Breeder's Cooperative of Shawano, Wisconsin. The other Associations, including two in Delta, are affiliated with the Michigan Artificial Breeder's Cooperative with headquarters at East Lansing.

Aged Grand Marais Man Found Dead At His Residence

Munising, Jan. 13.—Charles Goodman, 86, a resident of Grand Marais district for 60 years, one of its first settlers and a well known trapper in this area, was found dead in his home at Grand Marais late Wednesday.

Prior to living in Grand Marais, Mr. Goodman lived in Newberry and Seney. He was born Feb. 7, 1863, in Pennsylvania. Surviving him is a nephew, Edward Bish, of Manton, Mich. He was a member of the Presbyterian church.

The body was taken to Beaulieu funeral home and will be removed to Grand Marais Saturday. Funeral services will be held at the graveside in the Grand Marais cemetery at 3 p. m. Saturday, with the Rev. Frederick T. Steen officiating.

State Highway School Called

U. P. Road Men To Meet Jan. 18-19

General state highway construction problems in the Upper Peninsula will be discussed by field personnel of the Michigan highway department at a training school to be held Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 18-19, in Escanaba, it was announced today.

Construction, survey, soils and highway design personnel from the two districts in the U. P. will attend, except those necessary to carry on construction work during the time of the meeting.

A total of over 130 men, including a group of highway construction engineers from Lansing, will attend the sessions, according to an announcement from the U. P. branch office of the highway department in Escanaba.

The training school sessions, to be held in the court house, will be conducted by C. A. Weber, Lansing, state highway department road engineer.

First session will open at 1:30 p. m., Jan. 18, followed by an evening dinner meeting and discussion at the House of Ludington. The meeting will close at noon following a morning session at the court house.

Construction field personnel in the two districts, with district offices at Newberry and Crystal Falls, will be supplied with information at the training school.

George St. Louis Still Stationed In Shanghai

Washington, Jan. 13 (AP)—The Economic Cooperation administration reports that George St. Louis of Escanaba, Mich., in charge of the agency's office in Shanghai, apparently has had no serious difficulties since Chinese Communists took over that city.

The ECA says it has been hearing from him regularly and that he has reported no troubles. No new ECA supplies are being sent to Red China but large quantities were on hand in Shanghai when the Communists took over.

St. Louis is supervising the final distribution of these items, largely cotton goods. ECA headquarters says he is trying to see that they reach needy Chinese people.

An ECA spokesman said St. Louis is expected to wind up his Shanghai tasks "fairly soon." Then he may return to this country or possibly be shifted to ECA offices on Formosa, to which the Chinese Nationalist government has moved. St. Louis has not reported any difficulties in his dealings with the Communists like those faced by some American officials in China in recent months.

He is a veteran worker in the China aid program. He joined the ECA staff there shortly after supplies started flowing in the spring of 1948.

For a time, St. Louis was chief of the supply control and expediting in Shanghai. When the main ECA mission left for Canton as the Communists advanced southward, he remained in Shanghai in charge of that office.

Reindl To Speak At Hermansville

Hermansville, Mich.—John W. Reindl of Menominee will be the speaker at the Ladies' Night program of the Hermansville Lions club, Monday, Jan. 16, at the I. X. L. hotel.

Reindl will relate to the Lions and their wives his experiences with the F. B. I. during the war. Some 30 Lions and their guests will attend the dinner.

Mrs. Gladys Conard entertained some 15 ladies at her home Tuesday evening at a demonstration party. The demonstrator was Mrs. Fern Gentilini, of Vulcan. An enjoyable evening followed the demonstration and a lunch was served by Mrs. Conard.

Schedule Five Soils Meetings

Delta Farmers Will Hear Heathman

Farmers of Delta county today were advised by J. L. Heathman, agricultural agent, that five meetings will be held next week to better acquaint them with a proposed soils conservation program for the county.

H. A. Heathman of the federal soil conservation service, and Leonard Bramme of the soils department of Michigan State College, will be present at the meetings to explain the soils conservation program.

Motion pictures further illustrating the program also will be presented.

The county agent said that a number of county farmers have expressed interest in establishing a Delta soils conservation district. Before organization is attempted, the meetings have been scheduled to better inform the farmers of the program offered by the soil conservation service.

The schedule of meetings is as follows:
Jan. 16—2:30 p. m., Bark River school; 8 p. m., Cornell township

Upper Peninsula Airports Rapped

Wisconsin Central Criticizes Fields

Washington, D. C. (AP)—Wisconsin Central Airlines, Inc., which inaugurated service to Michigan's Upper Peninsula, Dec. 1, has expressed a low opinion of airports in that area.

Francis M. Higgins, president of the line, recently wrote the civil aeronautics board pithy comments on six airports there.

The CAB sent a copy of the letter to Representative Charles E. Potter (Rep. Mich.) who was active in the two year fight to get Wisconsin Central to begin operations in the area.

"We feel certain that no air line in the United States in recent years has started service to a group of communities with airport facilities so limited and primitive," Higgins wrote.

"It surely is a complete misstatement of facts to claim that the fields have been ready for air line use for the last two years."

Commenting on the Menominee-Marquette field the Wisconsin Central head said, "we can point with pride to this airport, as it is the only one in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan which has indoor toilets."

Higgins told the CAB that despite numerous handicaps, "we are very much encouraged by the traffic we have been able to generate since we started operations and will make every effort to provide these cities with the very finest type of scheduled air line service."

None of the airports has approved lighting on its runways except Houghton-Hancock, so operations are limited to daylight hours, he said.

Only two flights daily are now provided he said, but these will be increased to four with the longer daylight hours in the spring.

Some of Higgins' comments on the airports:

Ironwood—One runway without lights. Only a temporary administration building.

Houghton-Hancock—No administration building. Snowfall averages 220 inches each winter, one of highest amounts in nation. Line expects to be landing on four feet of ice on runways before spring.

Marquette—Field has no power line so that runways are not lighted and gasoline driven dynamos had to be installed to operate radio and teletype systems.

Iron Mountain—Only one runway with temporary lighting facilities. No administration building.

Menominee-Marquette—A 186 foot smokestack and water tower near runways. No public administration building.

Escanaba—One runway completed, but ground not stabilized at each side of the pavement. Francis M. Higgins, president of Wisconsin Central Airlines, Inc., is in error on several points brought out in the Washington news release concerning his opinion of Upper Peninsula airports. The Escanaba aviation committee reported this morning.

His remark that Menominee has the only airport in the Upper Peninsula with indoor toilets and that Menominee and Iron Mountain do not have administration buildings is not true, it was pointed out. Both Menominee and Iron Mountain have administration buildings with indoor toilets.

The Escanaba airport has one

In regard to snow conditions at the Houghton-Hancock airport. The amount of snowfall is maintained and snow packed to facilitate winter landings. Houghton's contract with Wisconsin Central calls for maintenance of runways.

"A lot I ought to care whether Michigan Bell makes a profit or not," said Farmer Bill. "Been after them to take some of the people off our rural line and they've done nothing about it."

"Do you know why you have so many parties on your line?" I asked.

"Well, they said if they took any of the folks off our line they couldn't even give them service because they haven't got enough equipment or another line to put them on."

"That's about the size of it," I replied. "And that comes back to my point. Money to buy new equipment that's needed to give you better service has got to come from investors. And before investors put their money into a business, they want to make sure it's earning a reasonable profit."

"That's why I said it's good for you to have Michigan Bell earn a fair profit."

- 2 Carry on the construction program to meet your telephone needs, which also means more jobs and more money in circulation. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 3 Keep on buying millions of dollars worth of materials and supplies from Michigan industries. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 4 Provide telephone jobs which help keep up employment and purchasing power in Michigan. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- 5 Continue to assume its share of the tax burden for government services and educational needs. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.

To keep on doing all these things, we'll need additional money from investors. And the only thing that will attract that money is a reasonable profit. This means that telephone rates must be adequate. The additional cost to you would be small—only a fraction of a cent more per call.

Bay de Noc Whitefish, Walleyes Latest Prey Of Invading Lamprey

The ever-increasing sea lamprey, villain of the Great Lakes, is a new threat to whitefish and walleyes in local waters. Both fine food fishes, the walleye is also identified as one of the best sports fish in this area.

Commercial fishermen of Escanaba, now setting nets beneath Bay de Noc ice, report alarming evidence of a large number of the fish-destroying lamprey in the Little Bay de Noc area. Fishermen are convinced that, unless something occurs to halt the invading lamprey, the whitefish and walleyes will soon go the way of the vanishing lake trout.

The federal government, through the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, is preparing to conduct a study of the lamprey in the Great Lakes, seeking methods of control.

Note Increase Here

Commercial fishermen, grateful for any action toward solution of the problem, hope the study does not come too late.

For the latest lamprey reports from Bay de Noc show large numbers of the parasites, all about 20 inches in length, thickly infesting local waters. In the opinion of commercial fishermen, this can mean that within the next few months great damage to local fish will be done.

When spring comes this invasion of adult lampreys will travel up local streams and rivers to spawn—and more adults will come in from deep waters of the lake to take their place. Meanwhile young lamprey, spawned within the past three years, will come down out of the rivers to still further increase the horde of fish-killers.

Growing Menace

The lamprey attacks fish by attaching itself with its sucker-like mouth and rasping a hole in the fish's skin. It then sucks the blood of its victim, leaving it weakened, scarred—or dead.

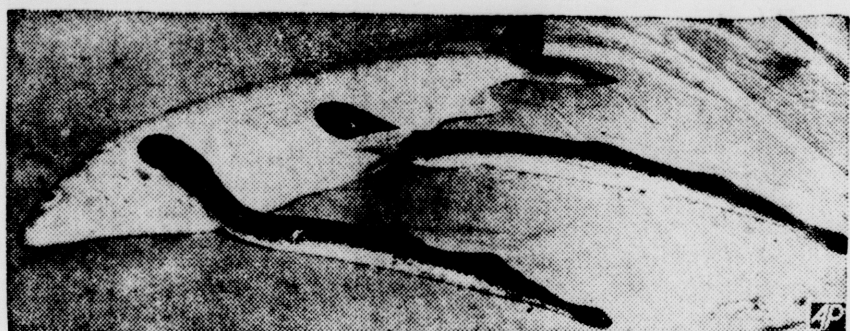

Lake trout, with fine scales, was the first prey of the lamprey because of its thin skin. Lake trout production in Lake Michigan and Lake Huron dropped to almost nil.

Now the lamprey has turned to other victims, including the whitefish and walleye, both fine food fishes. Lamprey-marked whitefish go as high as 10 per cent of the total number brought to the local dealer, it is reported by Roy Jensen of Jensen & Jensen fish market.

Display Is Planned

Damage to suckers is still higher, because the sucker has a thinner skin. About 40 per cent of the suckers taken are scarred by lamprey.

Paul Richter and Anton Jensen, raising whitefish gill nets, brought up two large lamprey the other day; Tom Ruleau, lifting a smelt pound net, found about eight large lamprey in with the fish. Commercial fishermen say there are

DEATH OF A WHITEFISH—This three and one-half pound whitefish, with two lampreys attached to its side, was netted recently in Lake Huron waters. Turning from trout to whitefish, the lampreys are scarring and killing this fine Great Lakes food fish, fishermen say. The lampreys pictured above are nearly two feet long.

Four Injured In Accident

Trailer And Auto Collide At Rapid

Gladstone, Jan. 13—Two youths are patients at St. Francis hospital and two others were to be X-rayed there today for possible fractures as the result of an automobile-truck collision on US-2 a quarter of a mile east of the Soo line overpass and about four miles east of Rapid River at 1:30 this morning.

All were passengers of an auto driven by Richard Tadish, 18, of Nahma, who was traveling east on US-2 and skidded into the path of a truck semi-trailer owned by Holland Furnace company being driven west by Edward Nyland, 26, of Holland, Mich.

Those taken to the hospital were Tadish, who suffered a severe head gash and loss of blood, and Jesse Bingham, 18, of Nahma, who sustained a fractured right leg. Others treated for injuries there and were to have X-rays today were Jerry Gereau, 17, of Ensign, and Philip J. Kidd, of Nahma, who suffered possible rib and back injuries.

State police said Tadish's car skidded off the right side of the road and back on before it collided with the big semi-trailer, which jackknifed off the north side as the Tadish car slid off the south side.

more lamprey in the bay this winter than ever before.

Jensen, in an effort to better inform the public on the lamprey threat, is preparing an exhibit of them preserved in jars. These glass jars of "pickled" lamprey will be exhibited in Escanaba so the public can get a good look at Enemy No. 1 of Great Lakes fish.

Mrs. Sarah Masse Celebrates Her 90th Birthday

Grand Marais, Mich.—Mrs. Sarah Masse celebrated her 90th birthday on Friday, January 6 at the home of her youngest daughter, Mrs. F. J. Seymour in Grand Marais.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour held "open house" from 10:30 a. m. to 10:30 p. m. so old friends of Mrs. Masse's could drop in to wish her the best on her 90th birthday. Mrs. Masse had over 100 callers and had a wonderful time greeting and visiting with her many visitors.

During the evening the family gathered together to honor Grandma Masse's birthday.

Mrs. Masse received many lovely gifts and cards from friends and relatives in Grand Marais as well as those from out of town.

Out of town guests at Mrs. Masse's birthday celebration included grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald of Newberry, and a great grandson, Mathew Nymman who is attending Seminary at Menominee.

Mrs. Masse was born in Cedarville, Canada, January 6, 1860. At the age of 17 years she married John B. Masse in Alpena, Michigan and a year later moved to Deer Park and on to Grand Marais.

Six of her nine children are living, namely, John Masse, Fred Masse, Farmer Masse and Emma Seymour, all of Grand Marais, Delia Lee of Cleveland, Ohio and Minnie Gustafson of Duluth, Minn.

At present Mrs. Masse's descendants total 138.

PERSONAL PROPERTY REPORTS

THE PERSONAL PROPERTY BLANKS recently sent out by the City of Escanaba contain a provision for the entrance of your sales tax number.

THE SALES TAX LAW is now amended so that assessing officers must show on their assessment rolls the sales tax license number of all persons engaged in the business of making retail sales of property subject to the sales tax. It requires them to report to the department of revenue any person found making retail sales and not licensed by the state to do so.

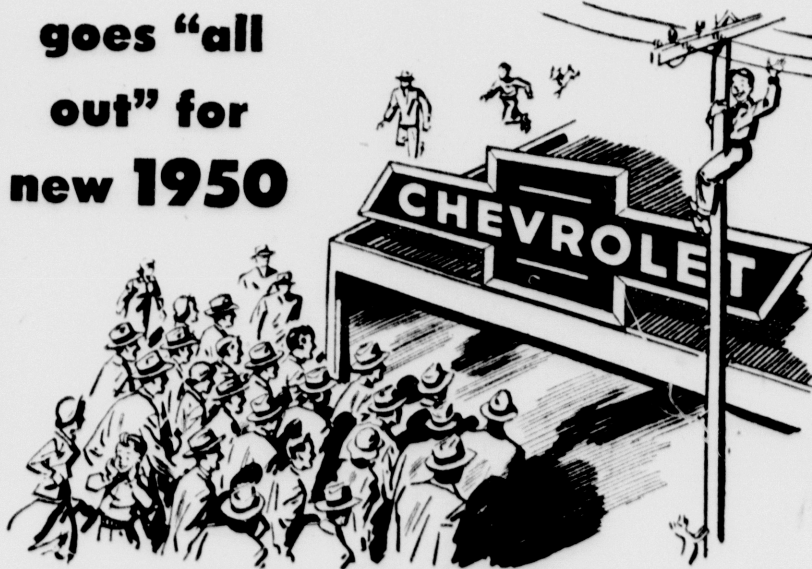

These provisions are to aid in enforcement of the sales tax law.

Your cooperation in filling in this number when you return your personal property forms on February 15th will be appreciated.

Abuse Of Powers Brings Restraints

JOHN L. LEWIS has ordered the coal miners in seven states who quit their jobs—66,000 of them—to return to a three-day work week, effective next Monday. The men had previously ignored an order by Lewis for a three-day work week in their mines, although most of the coal miners throughout the country did accept the limited production order of the miners' czar.

Even if the miners accept the latest order of Lewis, the return to the three-day production schedule will not be an adequate solution to the problem. The mining of coal on a three-day work week is insufficient to meet the requirements of the nation. The effect has already been harmful to transportation services, as indicated by the Interstate Commerce Commission order to railroads to reduce the number of trains that are coal-fed.

As the limited production schedule continues, it becomes more certain that government intervention will be necessary to end the abuse of power by Lewis. The president has authority to act under the Taft-Hartley law but he has refused to do so, contending that the situation is not a national emergency.

However, if government intervention does not come soon the rising tide of resentment in congress may produce tighter legislation to curtail Lewis. A movement to bring labor unions under the anti-trust law is gathering momentum in congress. If such legislation is enacted, it will be simply because labor leaders like Lewis have forced it by an abuse of their power.

Taft Will Be Hard Man To Beat

THE political action groups of organized labor that are concentrating their funds and efforts to unseat Senator Robert Taft of Ohio in the general election next fall may take a tip from the Democratic party. The Democratic leaders are reported to have concluded that the chances of defeating the Ohio Republican are extremely poor and that the effort and funds that would be spent on the campaign may better be directed elsewhere where prospects of victory are more encouraging.

Labor is gunning for Taft because of his advocacy of labor legislation that the union chiefs regard as restrictive, particularly the Taft-Hartley law. Senator Taft not only helped to write this act but played the leading role in its acceptance by congress, including the successful drive to override the presidential veto. The Democrats are gunning for Taft because he is a powerful voice against the welfare state and other pet projects of the Truman administration.

If the Ohio voters return Taft to the U. S. senate, and it appears very likely that they shall, not only the state of Ohio but the nation as a whole will be the beneficiary of such action. It is conceded even by Taft's most bitter enemies that there is no better statesman in Washington today than Senator Taft. He fights vigorously for what he believes to be right and has a power of persuasion that commands respect and attention. On domestic issues particularly, the voice of Senator Taft bears more weight in the legislative halls of the national capital than that of any other man in congress.

It is difficult to imagine that the voters of Ohio would reject as their senator a man who has gained the stature that Taft has earned.

50 More Years Of "Cold War"?

THE prospect that the "cold war," with its huge cost and high tensions, will continue for at least 50 years is not one to cheer about. Yet that's what Prof. Arnold Toynbee, the eminent British historian, foresees.

Toynbee is the author of a work that strikes deep into the basic nature of human history. He looks at events with the long view. So his comments on future trends inevitably carry weight.

The bright side of his forecast is, of course, that he sees no real likelihood of a shooting war before the year 2000. If his prediction turns out to be sound, the world will have experienced one of the longest periods without war since the middle of the 19th century.

But however grateful the millions of ordinary folk everywhere would be for such an era, they could not contemplate with joy the idea that the coming 50 years are to be a repetition of what the world has known as "peace" since World War II ended.

Toynbee isn't alone in predicting a painful extension of the cold war. Bernard Baruch, America's elder statesman, thinks the same. And so do some of our other statesmen and military leaders.

What they are all saying in effect is that Russia will not use its army to expand its area of control or influence in the world.

But the Soviet Union will employ every other device known to man—and undoubtedly many new ones—to achieve its apparent goal of global conquest.

If that is the course Russia does indeed intend to pursue, then the United States and the rest of the free world have no choice but to meet the relentless Soviet pressure with equal weight and determination on the other side.

Let's translate that into practical terms. It means we'll have to keep a bigger army than we'd like to have, for a longer time than we ever imagined would be necessary. It means, furthermore, that we'll have to take the lead in strengthening and coordinating the military forces of other free nations. We'll have to keep our own economy strong, doing our best to avoid paralyzing depression. And no doubt we'll have to continue helping other countries economically for a considerable time. Otherwise they might not be able to resist the corrosive effects of infiltrating communism. That's the outlook, say Toynbee and other far-seeing experts. If they're right, there's no use in our living in hope that an easy, relaxing sort of peace is just around the corner. Tension and strain may well prove to be the normal state for free peoples in the next half century.

Great Changes In The Florida Citrus Industry

FLORIDA orange and grapefruit association leaders say that within five or ten years methods of marketing these fruits are likely to be entirely changed.

Instead of shipping boxed fruit in carlots by freight or by express, the product is going to market in the form of frozen fruit concentrate, in ever-increasing quantities. The concentrate idea started in 1945-46, with an output of a quarter of a million gallons. At least 20 million gallons will be marketed in the 1949-50 season, and much greater expansion is in sight.

The transportation savings are enormous. The concentrate goes to market—largely to New York and other eastern cities—in refrigerator trucks, and it can hardly be detected from fresh juice. A few years ago there were doubts of Florida's citrus industry future, because of big crops and lagging markets. Good groves are bringing $1,000 and more an acre, and several multi-million-dollar sales of groves have been made during the last three months.

Florida's 428,000 acres of bearing trees are expected to produce more than 90 million boxes of fruit this season, a good crop, and the quality is high. About 45,000 acres of non-bearing trees are on the way. The production of concentrate is bringing millions of dollars worth of highly specialized and expensive equipment to the state.

CREDIT THE POLICE (Marinette Eagle-Star)

The City of Marinette has gone 22 months without a traffic fatality. Credit in large part belongs to the police department for its relentless campaign against traffic violators who, had the police been indifferent to their infractions of the rules of safety, might have caused fatalities.

The record of arrests and the violations charged against the offenders bears this out. During that 22-month period when Marinette had no traffic fatality, the police made 606 arrests in which drivers were charged with drunken driving, speeding, reckless driving, lack of proper lights and brakes on their vehicles, and crashing automobiles.

Police properly consider crashing automobiles one of the serious violations of the rules of safety. Yet that is one of the most frequently violated regulations. There are actually drivers in Marinette county who have indicated by their disregard of arterial that they don't understand the purpose of them.

Marinette has established an enviable record because the police have been alert. All good citizens hope they will continue to bear down on drunken drivers, reckless drivers, speeders and other offenders who endanger lives by their disregard of the rules of safety.

WHY HAS "YES" VANISHED FROM AMERICAN SPEECH?

"Yes" is a pretty word—that is, it was a pretty word before it was ousted by "yep, uh huh, yeah, O. K., sure, you said it," and various other vocal noises of affirmation. It is difficult to account for the disappearance of "yes" in spoken American English; but we hear it so seldom that we may almost regard it as obsolete.

For instance, let us tune in on any one of the give-away quiz programs and harken to the emcee as he interrogates a contestant.

Emcee: How do you do? You're Mrs. Gloria Winsap?

Mrs. W.: THAT'S right.

Emcee: And you're a housewife?

Mrs. W.: THAT'S right.

Emcee: And you live in the Bronx?

Mrs. W.: THAT'S right.

Emcee: Fine. Now see if you can answer this question. If you answer it correctly, you'll win (for the next five minutes he runs off the entire contents of the Montgomery-Roeback catalog). Now, are you ready, Mrs. Winsap?

Mrs. W.: THAT'S right.

Emcee: Very well; here's the question: In the song "California, Here I Come," which one of the 48 states is referred to?

Studio audience, en masse: CALIFORNIA!

Mrs. W.: Uh-h . . .

Emcee: Which one of the 48 states is referred to in the song "California, Here I Come"?

Studio audience: CALIFORNIA!

Mrs. W.: Uh-h Tex. . . . No, I mean, uh-h . . .

Emcee: I can give you only one hint,

Peak Prices On Newsprint

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington.—Last week the New York Sun, a newspaper 116 years old, suspended publication. With hardly a splash the waters closed over the Sun with all its tradition and with its long record of journalistic adventure.

Pursuing the same narrow course that appears to have been one of the reasons for the Sun's decline in recent years, the management in the moment of the paper's dying gasp sought to put the blame on increased labor costs. The employees of the Sun, many of them facing joblessness, made a quick rejoinder. And the New York Newspaper Guild, which had no organization on the Sun, pointed out that increased labor costs had been less than rising paper costs "forced by the newsprint trust."

NEWSPAPERS DECLINE
Here is a matter that seems to me to deserve the most searching consideration. If there is monopoly control in the newsprint industry, and that charge has been repeatedly made, it strikes directly at the free market in opinion and ideas. The number of newspapers has been constantly declining and in an increasing number of communities only one point of view is available on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

Figures have been given to me which are startling in relation to this business to which some of us are attached for both practical and sentimental reasons. They show that the profits of eight of the largest newsprint mills have nearly trebled from 1945 through 1948. During this period the price of newsprint went from $58.50 to $100 a ton and the profits of the eight companies from $38,503,605 to $96,211,729. This same study shows that for what is reported to be a representative cross section of American newspapers, profits in the same period decreased more than 54 percent. Experts who have examined these figures point out that the comparison is somewhat unjust in that the newspaper cross section includes the Hearst chain. With the Hearst papers left out, the newspaper profit picture would be more favorable.

The newsprint companies reply that for the biggest concern profit is based not on newsprint alone but on a variety of other paper products. While this may be true, the profit of those firms dealing exclusively in newsprint are at just about as high a level as those with diverse production.

NEWSPRINT PRICES HIGH

What is significant is that newsprint prices and profits are at an all-time high. Although the Canadian dollar has been devalued by 10 percent, leaders in the Canadian newsprint industry have said that this would make no difference in the price and they have had the backing of the Canadian government.

In 1946, however, when the American dollar was pegged at $1.10 as against the $1 Canadian exchange, these same newsprint leaders raised the price from $68 to $74.80. At least two of the large firms gave the difference in exchange as a justification for the 10 percent increase.

The motivation of the Canadian government is, of course, understandable. It is the acute dollar shortage put alongside the fact that the demand for newsprint was held up while the demand for other products has fallen off. But that does not alter the seriousness of the squeeze put on American newspapers.

Rep. Wright Patman's small business committee in the house has compiled some figures on the newsprint industry and on the method of uniform pricing made effective through a zoning system. Patman indicates there may be a public investigation of the charges that a small group exercises monopolistic domination over the industry.

This has happened before. During the 80th congress a senate small business committee under the chairmanship of Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska looked into the newsprint situation. The Wherry committee came up with a recommendation that newsprint sources should be developed in Alaska with, if necessary, help from the government in furthering access to Alaska's great stands of timber. Little if anything has been done to carry out this recommendation.

Some time ago the anti-trust division of the department of justice started an investigation into monopolistic practices in the newsprint industry. Investigators called on Canadian companies to submit their records. They refused and were backed up in their refusal by the Canadian government.

As a consequence the investigation was dropped. The department of justice referred the whole matter to the federal trade commission which had earlier conducted a futile inquiry.

Certainly, rising labor costs have contributed to the squeeze play in which many newspapers are caught. By an unhappy irony the mounting spiral of costs works to cut down the total number of jobs even though those still employed get higher pay. And it also narrows down the market in ideas that is so essential to a vital and living democracy.

Mrs. Winsap: Ca. . . Ca. . . Ca. . .

Mrs. W.: Kansas!

Emcee: No, no, Kansas. Oh, you know the answer, Mrs. Winsap. Ca. . . Ca. . .

Mrs. W.: Ca. . . Carolina!

Emcee: No, no, Carolina. Aren't you thinking of California?

Mrs. W.: THAT'S right.

Emcee, hysterically: That's RIGHT! That's RIGHT! California it is!

(Studio audience cheers wildly, the orchestra plays like mad, and the emcee goes berserk.)

About the only time "yes" is heard on the radio is in commercial announcements. "Yes" always begins a declarative sentence, as: "Y-e-s, you'll love the luxury ride of the new, streamlined, 1950 Flivver."

His protests were met with the reasonable statement that she was following his menu chart. "If you are going to do all the buying,

Something Tells Us It's No Match

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

SHOPPING HABITS—In a small town such as ours, the presence of men in stores on family shopping trips is not unusual. Most of their buying is confined to a few items jotted on a slip of paper. They are not in the store by choice, but on orders from their wives.

The majority of husbands approach shopping with morose seriousness than their wives. They have a preoccupied look as they go about their buying. They refer often to the list of items they are to purchase, and seldom branch out into decisions of their own. They know from experience their wives will not welcome six pounds of bleu cheese and ten lobster tails.

Business Week reports that men are exercising greater control over the family purse strings and doing more of the buying. Local observation indicates Business Week's research is as faulty as the pre-election studies on who will be elected president.

SOCIAL CENTERS—Many local shops are centers of social contact for the women of our town. At least their menfolk think so. In shopping trips downtown women meet their friends, discuss everything from canasta to the price of outing flannel, and then go into a huddle with the sales lady on what gossip she may have picked up during the day. Occasionally male shoppers stand discreetly back from such a gathering until the ladies discover his presence. Their voices drop to a whisper in concluding the conference. Then they turn away, looking at the man as if he were not to be trusted, even as an innocent bystander.

Women have a much better time shopping than do their husbands, since they have learned to combine business and pleasure.

ONLY A FEW—There are few men who do most of the purchasing for their household. This condition exists only where the husband is the old-fashioned type who puts into practice his belief that a wife's place is in the home. Most men would prefer placing the shopping responsibility on the wife and not have to fret over such diverse items as toilet paper, potatoes, salad dressing and the Sunday chicken. Those husbands who do take over the shopping do so in an excess of egotism that sometimes brings unhappy home conditions and eventual revolt on the part of the wife.

SHE CURED HIM—A few years ago one wife halted her husband's control over the shopping list by a simple but effective move.

Since he was doing all of the household shopping, she said, it would follow naturally that he should plan the menus for the week. In this way he would know what to purchase and she would know what he wanted for his meals. Well, he fell into the trap. Forgetting to include in the menu the usual hash following roast beef, and other tricks of the able housewife in using up left-overs and keeping costs down, the supplies were quickly gone and the cost of feeding the family zoomed.

His protests were met with the reasonable statement that she was following his menu chart. "If you are going to do all the buying,

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Leslie French was elected president of the First National Bank of Escanaba yesterday, to succeed M. K. Bissell. Eugene G. Royce was elected cashier, George N. Harder was elected vice president, and Frederick F. Royce, Henry A. Peterson and Earle B. Harris, assistant cashiers.

Escanaba—Donald C. Cook, son of Mrs. Nelson Cook, was formally admitted to the Delta county bar following a motion before the circuit court yesterday.

Manistiquette—Mrs. Alex Robertson has been elected president of the Methodist Ladies' Aid.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Charles L. Folio and Francis D'Amour have returned to their studies in Western State Teachers' college in Kalamazoo.

Manistiquette—Catherine Orr has returned to Detroit after a visit here with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orr, her parents.

Gladstone—Claire Sword has been named president of a new civics club organized at the school.

Perkins—Walter Neurohr has resigned as section foreman for the C. & N. W. railway at Osler and is leaving for Chicago to study acetylene welding.

Three dimensional films will make present-day pictures look as outdated as the kitescopes from the turn of the century.—Producer Samuel Goldwyn.

"You'll have to plan the meals," she insisted.

Within a short time he dumped the whole problem into her lap and they have since eaten better and more economically.

She has preserved his sense of importance by announcing to her friends, in his presence, that she is doing so well because "he taught me how to plan ahead in my buying."

IN GOOD TASTE—Cartoonists continually entertain with their pictures of the hen-pecked husband whose wife accompanies him to select his suits and ties. Or if she does not go with him, she makes him return any article of raiment that she considers too gaudy for her tastes.

Clothing will tell you that most men select their own suits without consulting the little woman. Women will sometimes advise and counsel from the sidelines, but not often.

Similarly, women seldom purchase more than an occasional pair of socks or a tie for their menfolk.

On the other hand, some husbands are courageous enough to walk right into the inner sanctum of women's dress shops and buy wearing apparel for their wives and daughters. Whatever women may think of this habit, they seldom object. Often the gifts represent the selections of a person with good taste. Occasional failures can always be exchanged.

THE MIDDLE CLASS—Business Week reports that in the middle-income families husbands and wives shop together for groceries somewhat more frequently than they do in the upper and lower-income families.

Perhaps this is an indication of something important in our national moral and economic fibre.

Couples in the lower-income bracket have neither the time nor money to go on shopping tours; those in the higher-income class have the time and the money but lack the inclination. This leaves the middle-income couple an open track through the grocery store and the satisfaction of knowing that they represent stability and compatibility.

Reburial Of War Dead

Dear Editor:

It is with much interest and greater disgust that I have read and heard about the action of the County Board of Supervisors in relation to recovering money expended for reburial of war veterans. Has this question been raised because of an acute financial condition of the County or is there something further behind the movement than just appears to the eye?

If the latter is true then it is high time for all the facts to be brought out into the open. If it is due to county finances, it is certainly poor judgment to attempt to begin to adjust them by re-opening closed, but not forgotten wounds.

There is only one criticism of Mr. Cleary's recent communication that I can make. He indicated that if those supervisors want to collect the money so expended for the six or seven reburials that were made that he was sure that many veterans would be glad to donate enough money to repay the county for these expenditures. I do not see why Mr. Cleary confines himself to veterans as I am sure that there are many, many non-veterans who would be glad to donate to such a noble cause instead of asking relatives to reimburse the county. Human life must be pretty cheap when it is not worth $75.00.

Yours truly,
Harlan J. Yelland

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of columns by Drew Pearson giving the inside on the nation's far-flung gambling rackets and how they influence government.)

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Four years ago I may have contributed to a murder in Chicago. This series of columns, therefore, is written as my contribution toward cleaning up an ever-widening area of big-city government in which murders flourish.

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee has wisely put his finger on this menace in his proposed probe of interstate gambling rackets. And last summer, Sen. Clyde Hoey's investigating committee unearthed an important clue linking the gambling rackets to Washington; then backed away from it as if they had stepped on a rattlesnake.

This clue was a statement by John Maragon, now under indictment, that he had worked for a man named Kastell. "Dandy Phil" Kastell, an alumnus of Atlanta penitentiary and associate of murdered gangster Arnold Rothstein, is the long-time partner of the current king of the gamblers, Frankie Costello, and of Bill Helis, the "Golden Greek" of the race track world.

It had long been suspected by those who have carefully watched the peculiar operations of John Maragon and his amazing entre at the White House, that Maragon was linked to Frankie Costello. It was also suspected that Maragon might have been the funnel by which Costello poured campaign contributions in to Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan.

REPUBLICANS PERSIST

Perhaps it was not unnatural, therefore, that Democrats on Senator Hoey's committee backed away from this, and had it not been for the persistence of GOP Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, the links between Costello, Helis and Maragon might never have been exposed. Republican senators also developed the significant acknowledgment from General Vaughan that Helis had contributed money to Democratic political campaigns.

Now, government is not supposed to have even the remotest links with gambling. But when a gambling syndicate contributes $20,000 to the campaign of a Florida sheriff who gets a salary of only $7,500, or when Big Bill Lias, the wheeling race track operator, contributes $35,000 to an earlier campaign of Lee Spillers, now U. S. attorney, to be prosecuting attorney, it stands to reason that the gambling syndicates can exert powerful influence with our city governments.

It is said by some that the Pendergast machine and big-city politics have now moved into the White House. While this columnist does not altogether agree with this—for reasons to be shown later—yet it is true that, when Frankie Costello controls a $2,000,000,000 gambling business, he can afford to spend a fortune electing men whom he can influence.

MURDER IN CHICAGO

And though Costello now claims to be a man of peace, other gangsters, reaching for the golden profits of the slot machine and the race track, have not hesitated to steal, kidnap, hijack and murder.

This was how the murder took place in Chicago for which I may have been partly responsible.

The man murdered was Jack Regan, former associate of the late Moe Annenberg, who took over Annenberg's racing wire when Moe was sent to the Lewisburg (Pa.) penitentiary for income-tax evasion by Frank Murphy. This is the telegraph wire which carries the race track results to all bookmakers, and without it no bookie can successfully operate.

Having inherited the Annenberg bookie wire, Regan suddenly found himself with a new partner. The Jake Guzik syndicate of Chicago, inheritors of the old Capone gang, had moved in. Not only did Regan find himself with a partner, but shortly thereafter he found that he wasn't even a partner himself. The syndicate had taken over.

This was the story which Regan unfolded to this writer in great detail in a Chicago hotel in the spring of 1946. He told how Pete Loviella was gambling dictator in Detroit, how Dan Corotello of the Sicilian society dominated Chicago, how territory was divided between gangsters, how it was impossible for a night club or tavern to operate without buying ice cubes, towels and beer, renting slot machines and hiring bartenders through the old Capone syndicate.

GAMBLING MONOPOLIES

The gangsters not only had gone in for gambling, but they had set up an empire controlling every activity connected with the night club, tavern or beer hall business. It was a monopoly more tightly run than anything ever conceived by big business.

Returning to Washington, I placed the facts before Attorney General Tom Clark and J. Edgar Hoover.

Jack Regan, I told them, knew where all the bodies were buried in Chicago gangsterdom for years back, and he had promised to cooperate.

And he did. The justice department assigned 12 FBI men to act on the tips Regan gave them, and for a time it looked as if Chicago gangland was in for a cleanup.

But suddenly, Regan was shot. He had told me that he probably would be shot, and had hired a bodyguard to be with him night and day. But driving home one afternoon, his car stopped for a red light.

Picturesque 40,000-Acre Porcupine Mountain Ski Area Has Grand Opening; Potentially The Best Skiing Terrain Between Lake Placid And Sun Valley

THE GOVERNOR TAKES OFF — Ready to "take off" with a word of encouragement from genial George Bishop, of Marquette, secretary-manager of the U. P. Development bureau, Governor Williams is shown advancing carefully toward the 1,800 foot ski tow to make the ascent for his inaugural schuss down the Porkies' Weatherhorn hill, where the new winter sports area in Ontonagon county is centered. "You people up here really have something," Governor Williams said in his dedicatory address, "and I'm going to try it." He did—and quite well—until floored at the end of the run by a tricky telemark and not-too-abundant snow that turned into a sitzmark. He came up all smiles, however, and tried it again—this time without a fall.

BEST IN THE MIDWEST — Right in Upper Michigan's Porcupine mountains in Ontonagon county is potentially the best skiing terrain in the Midwest. Above you see the main open slope of new winter sports development at Weatherhorn hill in the heart of the "Porkies", named the Porcupines because early Indians thought the series of broken ranges parallel to the Lake Superior shore somewhat resembled a porcupine. The area is 17 miles west of Ontonagon. Its highest peak, Government peak, rises 2,023 feet above sea level, which make it the highest land mass between the Adirondacks and the Black Hills. The Porcupine mountains ski area had its formal opening last Sunday, but its development has only just begun and is scheduled for completion in 1951. At that time Michigan and Ontonagon authorities say it will be the best winter sports area, and particularly the best slalom and downhill skiing area, between Lake Placid, N. Y., and Sun Valley, Idaho. The open slope above begins at 1,150 feet and drops 370 feet in its 1,800 foot length. It is 400 feet wide at the bottom and 200 feet wide at the top. This picture was taken at a point near the top. At the right above is the expert slope at 1,332 feet which drops 542 feet over an interesting but tricky 3,000 foot course with some rapid drops which will test the skiing ability of the truly expert skier. Also, there is an intermediate trail dropping 350 feet over a 2,800 foot course. To give you some idea of the spaciousness of this ski run area, it should be pointed out that the outrun of the expert slope may be seen in the upper right portion of the picture. The so-called expert slope parallels the open beginner and novice slope shown above. This picture is deceiving in that the expanse of white snow makes it appear considerably less steep than it is. Actually, there are several quick drops tapering off to a gradually leveling outrun to the base of the ski tow. At present, an 1,800 foot rope ski tow is in use. As further developments are made, it is planned to install a J-bar tow or a chair lift that will put the Porcupine area on a par with Sun Valley and Lake Placid to the extent that its elevation affords. There is a picture-window ski shelter at the base, a ski patrol is on duty, and cross country skiing is available over 85 miles of well marked trails. "This is only the beginning of a move to make this area, which is part of a Michigan state park, the best skiing resort in the Midwest," Knox Jamison, manager of the park, told the Escanaba Daily Press reporter Sunday. Jamison, who is pictured in the inset above, is supervising the work of 50 state prison camp inmates in developing the large area. (All pictures on this page are Escanaba Daily Press photos taken at the area last Sunday).

HELLO! MR. BEAR—This little Ontonagon tyke walked up the main street in Ontonagon to see what all the excitement was about in the formal opening of the Porcupine mountains winter sports area. Mr. Bruin caught her attention more than anything else, and she is shown here stopping to say hello. The novel outdoor display was a welcome for the governor and his party. The sign reads: "Mr. Governor, we welcome you to this great north country. Come more often. The Three Bears." There is a bear on each side of this big fellow, and a vicious looking coyote at the right, which apparently doesn't worry the little girl a bit.

GALENDESPRUNG SPREAD SOMERSAULT—No novice is this young fellow, Paul Goode, of the Michigan Tech Ski club which had three busloads of student skiers down for the big opening in the Porcupine mountains last Sunday. A resident of Detroit, Goode is an accomplished skier, but he likes to hit the snow occasionally in a novel leap or stunt of some kind. Here you see him in the first stage of a stunt he and his buddies call the galendesprung spread somersault. It starts out as a normal galendesprung. Then, he spreads his skis in mid-air a la Charlie Chaplin fashion. Then, he lands and turns a somersault and leaps up with both skis forward to continue the run. It's a nice trick if you can do it. Try it some time when you're feeling particularly frisky.

Chicago Starts Trend For Great Trade Fair

By SAM DAWSON

New York (U)—Chicago is getting ready one million square feet of exhibit space for the businessmen of the world to show their wares. Federal authorities hope this invasion of the midwest stronghold will start a trend.

The sponsors of the United States' first international trade fair expect that, if the test of pitting foreign against American manufacturers proves to be to their mutual advantage, the idea will spread across the nation—that by 1952 businessmen will be taking their wares on a circuit of this country and Canada.

It will be something like the winter golf circuit, where performers trail along from resort to resort in a precisely timed series of tournaments—except that the businessmen would expect to take down more money.

This year's embryo circuit will open in Toronto May 29 with Canada's third international trade fair. Exhibitors there will then have the chance to move their displays to the Chicago fair Aug. 7 without duplicating initial expenses of getting them together.

Chicago thinks its fair will attract 1,500 exhibitors and 75,000 buyers from all over the world. Officials say space has already been taken by exhibitors from 26 countries, who will show everything from plastic toys to heavy machinery. Chicago will ask congress this month to consider legislation to relieve problems of tariffs and customs such as would plague the Chicago fair and other world trade exhibits to come.

Other cities who talked about entering the circuit this year include Detroit, Atlantic City, Seattle, Philadelphia and New York, the department of commerce reports. If the Chicago fair is a success, some of them may come in next year. San Francisco is considering one in 1952.

What's the idea of a trade fair? Trade, just trade. There are no ferris wheels, no sideshows, no muscle dancers. Those who exhibit their samples at the fair, and those who visit it, are there solely to buy, sell and make contacts. Orders are taken, prices haggled over, delivery dates discussed.

At the 1949 Canadian fair, merchants from 35 different countries displayed their wares, and merchants from 50 different countries looked them over. On three days during the two-week fair the public was let in, and some 30,000 persons showed up. They didn't buy, weren't supposed to. They were just curious to see what products other countries offered, what might show up in the time in their own shopping centers.

Managers of the Toronto fair say that already one-third of the available 200,000 square feet of exhibit space has been reserved for the May-June showing. The Canadian government underwrites the fair, and provides facilities for trading below cost. On hand for the merchants are postal telegraph and telephone connections to any part of the globe; interpreters and stenographers; import, export and currency experts of the government to iron out any individual business problems.

Europe has long used these fairs to foster trade, but the Canadian fair of 1948 was the first in north America. New York businessmen talked of one just before the war, but Hitler's march toward conflict killed the idea. Now New York businessmen have a standing committee studying the idea.

The Borough president of the Bronx—a section of New York that has already given the world a cocktail and a cheer—offers a site for the fair. Included are 10 one-story buildings with total floor space of 480,000 square feet.

The U. S. department of commerce feels kindly toward the whole idea. It wants world trade

Argentina Curtails American Swing To Hear Native Music

Buenos Aires, Argentina (U)—Music lovers down Argentine way are going to listen to a lot more of their native tunes from now on. President Peron's government ruled that at least 50 per cent of all music played in public places must be written in Argentina. The decree is expected to cut down the playing of United States swing numbers, Cuban rumbas, Brazilian sambas and even European classics.

If strictly carried out, the law would prevent the presentation of operas in Argentina because practically none have been written by Argentines. Some Argentine music lovers, who favor Italian opera, said however that all decrees have their exceptions and they expected the law would be relaxed for operas.

New Drug May Prevent Heart Attack Deaths

Pittsburgh (U)—A Cornell university medical professor has revealed a new drug that may cut down heart attacks and save more than 70,000 lives a year.

The drug, known as tromexan, was developed in Switzerland.

Dr. Irving S. Wright, one of the nation's leading researchers in disease of the blood vessels, said the drug seems to be the best medicine yet developed for the prevention of blood clots which annually kill 200,000 Americans and disable many more.

Dr. Wright disclosed the drug before the Pittsburgh society of medicine last night.

Dr. Wright is professor of clinical medicine at Cornell university medical college in New York.

Tests have indicated tromexan is better than any of the drugs now utilized against coronary thrombosis, Dr. Wright said.

BOOBY PRIZE

Des Moines (U)—A class for the poorest bulls has been added for the Iowa Hereford Breeders Association show at Cedar Rapids. The exhibitor with the poorest individual of breeding age will receive credit for $150.

The second poorest bull will win its exhibitor a credit of $100; third, $80, fourth $60, and on down to $10. These credits must be used in the purchase of a purebred bull at the association's sale.

"NO MORE RINSING FOR ME!"

says Mrs. Elizabeth Davis OF PORTSMOUTH, OHIO

"I didn't believe Tide could do it... till I tried it! But it's true! I took the clothes right out of those wonderful Tide suds and put them through the wringer and onto the line. And, believe me, they looked so bright and clean—I was proud to hang them up!"

"I took my wash out of the Tide suds—wring it out—and hung it up CLEAN! I'll never rinse again!"

"My clothes dried so soft and fluffy—ironed so easily—without rinsing at all!"

says Margaret Lockwood OF INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

says Mrs. M. Hayes OF WEEHAWKEN, NEW JERSEY

"Tide now makes possible an amazing new kind of washday—quick and easy, almost beyond belief. Just think of all the time I'm going to save... without rinsing! And think of the wear and tear it saves on my clothes as well as on me! Thank you, Tide, for the biggest washday miracle of all!"

"Talk about miracles! I take my clothes out of Tide's wonderful suds, wring them out, and the dirt runs right out with the washwater just as they say it does! And what a beautiful wash... fresh, clean, and sweet-smelling without rinsing at all! It dries soft, fluffy, easy to iron. From now on, it's Tide—and only Tide—for me!"

TIDE cuts washday work in half!
No more rinsing!
Just wash... wring out... hang up!

YES, another Tide miracle has been discovered—and it's the washday news of the mid-century! With Tide in your washing machine—you can take your clothes right out of the suds... put them through the wringer and hang them on the line dazzling clean! Without rinsing! Hard to believe? Yes, but when you use Procter & Gamble's Tide, it's a fact—and women all over America are proving it today.

HERE'S WHY! Tide, with its miracle suds, gets the dirt out of your clothes and keeps it suspended in the sudsy water. When you wring out the clothes, the dirt runs out with the washwater... and the clothes come from the wringer white... fresh... CLEAN!

YES, CLEAN! You all know how clean Tide has always washed your clothes with rinsing. Actually cleaner than any other washing product you can buy. Now we'd like you to try Tide without rinsing and compare the results. It's simply unbelievable how bright, fresh and clean you can get your wash with Tide, without rinsing. And think of the time and work you save! So try Tide without rinsing! If you do, you'll never use anything but Tide again!

No other washing product known can match TIDE for getting out dirt and soap film, too

FOR THE WORLD'S EASIEST WASHDAY... TRY TIDE WITHOUT RINSING!

Social Situations

A bore gets you off in a corner at a party and you would like to get away.

WRONG WAY: Feel that there is no polite way of escaping.

RIGHT WAY: Be very attentive for a few minutes—and then feel free to make your escape, by saying you want to say "Hello" to a guest across the room, or that you have a message for your hostess, or by suggesting that you both join another group.

After ordering lunch in a restaurant you see that a group who entered after you did are served before your table.

WRONG WAY: Complain to your waitress about her slowness.

RIGHT WAY: Assume that factors beyond the control of the waitress caused the delay.

Legion Department Officers To Visit Manistique Jan. 18

The Manistique post of the American Legion will be host at a 6:30 dinner to Michigan department officers of the Legion and Auxiliary when they visit Manistique on their mid-winter tour Wednesday, January 18.

The visiting group will include in its personnel the department heads of both organizations as well as principal state officers, these being: R. Gerald Barr, department commander; Mrs. Barr; Mrs. A. C. Barnes, department president of the Auxiliary; L. H. Alexander, department adjutant and welfare officer; C. Elmer Olson, department vice commander; Dave Hallock, department publicity director; Mrs. Violet Pavlot, Eleventh district president; Ralph Olson, field service officer; George W. Beaudoin, association president and Ernie Hiltunen, eleventh district committeeman.

The dinner, which will be served by the Auxiliary members, at the Legion hall, is open to all Legionnaires and Auxiliary members and William Cowman, post commander is making an appeal to all members of the post to be present and to meet the distinguished guests. A ham dinner will be served and there will be dancing. Harvey Quick will preside as toastmaster.

The local group officers who will greet the visitors are: William Cowman, commander; Mrs. John Grimsley, Auxiliary president; John Grimsley, adjutant; Bill Blowers, Lauritz Hough, vice commanders; Lyle J. Sangraw, sergeant at arms; Gordon Denny, historian; Donald Martin, chaplain.

The official party will leave here for St. Ignace, where the Mid-Winter conference will be held January 20, 21 and 22. Local delegates elected to this meeting are: James Sangraw, Hank Powers, Charles MaQuay, Harvey Quick and John Grimsley. Alternates are: Frank Pavlot, George Huber, Earl Malloch, sr., and Edward Doyle.

Burial was made at Lakeview cemetery under the direction of the Motion Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Leon Duquette, Donald Duquette, Walter Duquette, William Cowman, Fred Davis, Jr., and Sonny LaFreniere.

Those from out of town who attended the services were Joseph Duquette, Cincinnati, O.; Mr. and Mrs. William Duquette, Mt. Morris; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duquette Jr., Blaney; Mr. and Mrs. Art Hardy and son, Iron Mountain; Mrs. Fred LeGault, Gladstone; Oliver Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Kosequat of Curtis.

Veteran Tells Of Experiences Among Eskimos

In correlation with unit studies of Eskimos in Alaska, Ernest Caron of Manistique presented an interesting talk to the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth grade children of the Lincoln school Tuesday afternoon, January 10.

Mr. Caron, who spent six years in the Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft Search Light division, was stationed for two and one-half years in Alaska.

He told of his experiences with the Eskimos. In answer to questions put forth by the enthused children, he described the schools, seal and whale hunting, fishing and talked about the Eskimo homes, habits and dress.

Chest X-Rays Are Taken Of Seven Hundred People

Approximately seven hundred people took advantage of the service of the Mobile X-ray unit sponsored by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association while it was here Friday of last week and Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Most of the chest x-rays taken were high school students of Manistique and Cooks consolidated schools, but many adults also availed themselves of the service.

Once a forest country, Great Britain now has less than five percent of its area classed as woodland.

Deer Saved From Watery Grave Near Thompson

Rescue of a deer from drowning, or perhaps freezing, provided an interesting spectacle for scores of local people attracted to the Thompson bathing beach where the incident occurred Thursday noon.

A passing motorist, happened to see the animal, a full grown doe, struggling in a depression of an ice jam close to the water's edge and reported it to the state police, game police, conservation employees and volunteers tried to get near enough to the animal to reach it shoreward, but it went, instead closer to the water's edge.

Finally Leon and Cletus Bancroft, employees at the Thompson ash hatchery, managed to get between the deer and the lake. The deer was, by this time in water up to its shoulders. They shouted to frighten the animal finally getting it to make a mad scramble onto a firmer position. Continuing their shouting they drove the animal up the bank, across the road and into the woods on the other side. It was so fagged out that catching it would have been a comparatively easy matter.

Miss Nadine Westin Will Present Piano Recital Jan. 19

Miss Nadine Westin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Westin, of Riverdale, will give a piano recital at the Lakeside school on the evening of Thursday, January 19.

Miss Westin is a senior in Manistique high school and this program climaxes a ten year period of piano instruction.

The program will consist of several well known classics—"Toccata and Fugue", by Bach; "Hark Hark, the Lark", by Schubert; "Norwegian Bridal March", by Grieg, and "Quartette from Rigolotto", by Verdi.

In addition to her numbers, Carl Olson will play several numbers on the violin, which will include "Adoration", Borowski; "The Old Refrain", Kreiser; "Meditation from Thal's", Massenet. A piano duet, "Barber of Seville", Rossini, will also be played by Miss Westin and Miss Evelyn Anderson.

The public is invited.

C-C Launches Member Drive

Goal Is Set At 100
Members For 1950

The Gladstone Chamber of Commerce is now conducting its annual member drive and the event will be climaxed by a dinner on the evening of Tuesday, January 31.

Statements for the annual dues already have been mailed to current members with request for early remittance and efforts will be made to bring the membership of the chamber of commerce to at least 100.

H. T. Brewer, president of the civic organization is heading the drive as chairman. Elmer Beaudry is chairman of the dinner committee.

Directors of the organization eliminated honorary memberships in the body at the suggestion of Rev. Theophil Hoffmann and a committee was named to study the possibilities of associate memberships.

Future directors meetings of the chamber are to be open to the general membership and a definite formula for conducting the meetings in accordance with good parliamentary procedure is to be adopted.

Train Ends Career Of Negro At 102

Stockton, Calif. (AP)—Moses Blinks, a Negro who claimed he was 120 years old and had sired 83 children by 11 wives, sat down on a railroad track.

It was raining hard and Blinks, a wizened little man who looked plenty old, was four miles from home. He probably didn't see the train coming or hear it whistle.

Roy Smith, of Tracy, engineer of the Southern Pacific passenger train, said he saw a subject crouched on the track about a half mile ahead and thought it was an animal. He blew the whistle and applied the brakes. No use. The cow-catcher tossed Blinks yards from the tracks and killed him.

Holland and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wilson. From Detroit, Jean will go to Boston and the East Coast where she is scheduled for a three months dancing tour.

Out-of-town relatives who attended funeral services here Wednesday for Mrs. Fred Orr were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Curtis and daughter, Elizabeth, Robert Westcott, and Thomas Orr of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Orr, Jr., Monroe; Mrs. Julia Arnold, Saginaw; Melvin Orr of West Branch and Mrs. Kate Orr of Royal Oak.

Jack Swanson left Tuesday for Grove City, Pa., where he will be employed.

Last-Minute Thrillers, Upsets Are The Order In City Loop Basketball

Last minute thrillers and upsets were the order of the night in city league basketball competition at the junior high gym last night as Harnischfeger upset the strong Powers quintet, 34-33, the Merchants turned back People's Bar, 38-32, and Mike's Bar stopped Clairmont Transfer, 34-32. In the fourth game on the program, Wait Window nudged K-C, 39-18.

Clairmont was in the lead until the last minute of play when Mike's scored a free throw and two quick field goals to pull the game out of fire.

The Gladstone Lion-Bark River city league game was postponed last night because of the icy condition of the highway. Bark River will be host to Mike Strohl's Stephenson Independent team at 3 p. m. Sunday in an exhibition game.

Bark River Stops Rock In 48-42 Tilt

Perkins, Jan. 13—The Bark River-Harris high school basketball team, which has not been faring too well of late, rose on its haunches last night to overcome a Rock lead and win by six points in the official timeout period. Bark River copped this Central U. P. league game, 48-42.

Rock was in front by a 39-37 count when the going sounded for the official timeout period, and in those crucial last three minutes of play, the Barks forged ahead to give Coach Paul De Ben's cagers a most welcome victory.

Nault was the big wheel for the victors with 17 points, but he was topped for high scoring honors by Rock's Martilla, who dipped in seven field goals and four free throws for 18 points.

Bark River led 26-17 at half-time, but Rock went into a 33-30 lead in the third quarter.

In the preliminary, Bark River's reserves won, 12-10.

Horvath Of Rockets Makes Four Goals

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 13 (AP)—It was a big night for John Horvath of the Grand Rapids Rockets hockey team.

Horvath shot four goals as the Rockets managed a 5-5 tie with the Milwaukee Clarks before 4,200 fans last night.

The fifth and tying counter came off the stick of Will Gorman, who slapped it in with three minutes to play.

The tie advanced Grand Rapids lead to ten points over second place Toledo in the eastern league.

BOWLING

Rock is in the bowling news this week in more ways than one. They've been discussing fouls up there and have three specific questions to ask. Double-checking our answers with Harry Gafner, long-time bowler and alley proprietor in the Escanaba area, we answer the questions as follows:

Q—Is it a violation to allow your foot to swing over the foul line in the act of delivery as long as it does not come in contact with the alley? A—No, it is not a violation. As long as the foot does not touch the alley, it may swing over the line.

Q—Is it a violation to allow your arms or body to extend over the foul line in the act of delivery as long as they do not come in contact with the alley? A—The answer is the same. It is not a violation as long as no contact is made with the alley. In this case, we might add that when bowling on a lane next to a wall, make sure your hand or arm does not touch the wall beyond the foul line. That is a foul.

Q—After delivering the ball, an object falls from your pocket or person over the foul line, and the person reaches over to pick it up without consulting the foul man: should this constitute a foul? Yes, it is a foul. To pick up such an object over the foul line, one must first get permission from the foul judge. Usually, a nod of the head will suffice if a bowler waits until the ball has cleared the alley and the play is completed.

Gafner says if additional information is desired on fouls, a booklet showing all the possibilities and rulings may be obtained by writing to the American Bowling Congress, Milwaukee, Wis., Attn: Mr. Baumgartner.

Emil DeBacker, proprietor of Rock's Maple bowl, is a happy man these days. Just the other day he bowled his first game over 200 since opening up the new lanes. It was a 219 that paced the Grandpa Lions to two wins over the Bus Drivers. Thanks, Les Maki! Let's have more of the same.

High scores in the Chatham Men's South wheel were posted by Frank Richmond, Trenary, a rousing 235, and Alice Norlin, of Chatham, a commendable 191.

Two hundred plussers in the Escanaba Major are Roy Johnson 204, Red Holmes 238, Father Pat 212, Eddie Brown 201, Tony Orzel 201, Bill Hanson 205, George Walker 206, and this week Red Holmes blasted a 203. Split artists are Fred Saykly 3-7-10, Arvid Isacson the 3-10 twice and the 3-7-10, Ray DeGrand 3-10, Tony Orzel, Harold Meiers 3-10 twice, Barney Barnhart 5-6-10 and Kenney Johnson 5-10.

Joe Hirn's 580 is high so far this season in the Escanaba wheel. Two hundred scores posted are Mel Crepeau and Wes Hanson 212 each and Hirn an even 200 to go with 195 and 185 for 580.

The 'Stique BPOE boys are still plenty warm! Harold Peters 201-243-212-656, Don McNally 205-202-220-627, Connie Grapshos 218-219-184-622, Jack Martin 214-195-201-610, Ken Van-Eyck 190-192-224-606, Carl Carlson 220-195-191-606, Barney Johnson 232-186-187-605 and Stan Norton 235-187-182-604.

Two hundred and up games at 'Stique were Dan Estren's 246, Harold Bradley 235, Malcolm Nelson 219, Harvey Quick 216-200, Leonard Males 214, John Kasun 212-210-201, Art Cockram 212, R. G. Hentschel 212, Clarence Peterson 211, Freddie Christensen 207, Ed Busch 206, Bernard Chaudoir 202, William Stephens 202, Fred Hahne 201 and George Babladis 200.

Hello, Annette Huber, glad to have you up and around again and snowing the bowling editor under with news of Manistique keglers. Annette says the Orioles are kinkin up with Flamingos second, Cardinals third and Eagles last. Babe Carpenter came through with a 489 this week, thanks to 182 and 181 games. Others with honor counts were Ruth Girvin 187, Geraldine Gorsche 200-182-150-532, Kathryn Nelson 514, Eleanor Schuster 512 around a 190 game, Glenadine Weber 175, Eleanor Stephens 200, Lorraine Slining 183, Split artists were Henrietta Dybevik and Rena White, each of whom spared the 6-7-10.

Women honor count bowlers in Gladstone this past week were Ruth Hamilton with a rousing 212 and Jane Tufnel and June Madden, each of whom cracked 200 with 204 and 203, respectively; Lucille Miller 195, Lois Gagnon 187, Alice Skoglund 184, Alice Creten 178, Marion Peterson 178, Mary Lorraine Willis 187, Theresa Gillis 184, Madlin Achambeau 179, Alice Krout 177, Bernice Burton 176 and Mickey Esler 175.

Theresa Van Mill, Gladstone, converted the 3-7-10, and in the Bark River Women's league, Grace Bryak and Millie Severin each spared the 5-10 without blinking an eye.

Women honor count bowlers in Escanaba are Pearl Curtis 177, Marcella Saums 179, Mary Alice Butler 177, Alice Remington 179, Odette Anutta 175, Minica Curtis 181, Eileen Bathke 179, Jean Henshew 179, and Marcella Saums again with 178.

The Escanaba girls proved they could spare difficult splits also. Gladys Richards brought in the 5-8-10, Lu Barnha, the 2-4-6-10, Shirley Stoll the 5-7, Isabel Klug the 5-7, Jackie Gaffney the 5-8-10, Margaret Beauchamp 3-10 and Lil Schwartz the 2-5-8-10 combination.

John Knauf of the City league of Escanaba racked up a 203, the only count over 200 in that wheel. Escanaba Paper company 200-plussers this week were Cliff Sutter 232 and Ted Makosky 213, and the following converted splits: Frank DeCaire 3-9-10, 3-7-10, Bill Kraiger 6-7-10, Bob Smithwick 9-10.

Stan Johnson led the Escanaba Delta with 216, but Neal Bailey was only two pins away. Milt Lueneburg turned in 206, Ray Raymond 203 and Al Ness and Nobel Carlson each hit 201.

Sometimes the bowling editor thinks they spare more splits in the Delta than anywhere else. Look at this list: Joe Heirman 9-10, John Lemmer 9-10, 5-10, Don McKie 3-10 twice, Jack Novak 5-10, Stan Johnson 4-7-10, 2-10, Stan Ostman 5-7-10, Eustine Gaynor 3-10, Ray Raymond 5-7 and 3-10, Les Sundquist 3-7-10, Don Guindon 5-7, John Cass 5-8-10, Bill Berglund 5-10, Clarence Zerbel 5-8-10, John Anthony 3-6-7-10 and Rudy Erickson 5-7 and 9-10.

Just in under the wire is the report that Frances Boyle put together 174-190-180 for a snappy 544 in the Elks Monday 7 P. M. league. Those are HIM and HIG highs for the season.

Bing Crosby's 9th Annual Golf Meet Is Underway Today

Pebble Beach, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Bing Crosby's ninth annual $10,000 Invitational golf tournament opens here today with most of the nation's top golfers entered.

The competitors comprise 75 amateurs and 75 professionals. Nineteen vacancies on the pro side were filled in qualifying rounds yesterday.

For Ben Hogan, who has started a comeback campaign in spectacular fashion, the tournament will provide a second big test. He tied Sam Snead for first place in the Los Angeles Open Tuesday.

The Texas pro, who was injured gravely in an automobile accident last year, obviously was the tournament favorite, for reasons both sentimental and practical.

However, fatigue may pose a big problem to Bantam Ben here. He was tired after five days' play at Los Angeles (one round was washed out.) And he was happy when rain forced a week's postponement of the L. A. play-off with Snead.

The Crosby-Ben won't last year—will be played over three courses. It opens at Cypress Point today, goes to Monterey Peninsula tomorrow and winds up at rugged, hilly Pebble Beach Sunday.

The amateur side includes many prominent men from the entertainment and sports world. Among them are Leo Durocher, Lefty O'Doul, Ralph Kiner, Bob Lemon and Jimmy Dykes, all well known to baseball fans; and Bing's movie colony guests, Johnny Weismuller, Richard Arlen, Forrest Tucker, Dennis O'Keefe, Randolph Scott and Frank Borzage.

SPORTS MIRROR

Today a year ago—Twenty-three harness horses perished in $150,000 fire at Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

Three years ago—Harold (Red) Drew resigned as head football coach at Mississippi to replace Frank Thomas as coach at Alabama.

Five years ago—Byron Nelson took the lead in the Phoenix open golf tourney with a 36-hole score of 133.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL
The schedule for Escanaba junior basketball play tomorrow follows: 9 to 10:30 a. m.—Hawks vs. Websters; 10:30 to noon—Silver Foxes vs. Franklin Lights; 1 to 2 p. m.—Clippers vs. Eagles; 2 to 4 p. m.—open. Players with one year's experience will be in the American League and newcomers in the National league.

St. Joseph's Host To Gladstone Five Tomorrow Night

NO HOCKEY GAME HERE SATURDAY

The Escanaba Hawks and SMACs of Marquette will not play their U. P. Hockey league game here Saturday, as it was announced yesterday, the Hawk management reports. Because of a misunderstanding, it was erroneously reported that the game was definitely set for Saturday. They will meet at a later date, however. An effort is being made to book the Marquette Merchants against the Hawks here this Sunday night. Definite announcement about this will be made in tomorrow's paper.

Michigan Tech Six Beats Spartans In Ice Hockey Debut

East Lansing, Jan. 13 (AP)—Michigan State, beaten 6-2 last night in its collegiate ice hockey debut, will try again against Michigan Tech here tonight.

Led by right wing Jim Ruhl with four goals, the fast-skating Upper Peninsula squad was in the lead all the way. Tech had a 3-0 lead at the end of the first period and was ahead 4-2 after the second.

Michigan Tech had an easy time although they were not allowed to play their freshmen, brought down from Houghton by a misunderstanding.

Del Reid of Detroit, the MSC goalie had a busy time fighting off the Tech sharpshooters and was credited with 65 saves. Center Bill McCormick and left wing Bill Blair scored for the Spartans.

DARTBALL

Most amazing individual accomplishment of the city dartball season was Mrs. Robert Clayton's feat of getting 14 hits in 20 times at bat for a .700 batting average—the best showing anyone, man or woman, has made to date.

She got 12 hits in 14 times at bat in the first two games but cooled off a bit in the third game.

In the women's league, L&R beat Al's 1-0 in 19 innings, led the second, 0-8, and copped the third by 2-1. The Woodpeckers took two from Ely's, dropping the first, 0-2, winning the second 1-0 in 13 innings and finale by 2-1.

Industrial results—Woodticks defeated Eagles No. 1, 13-2, 7-6 and 14-9, Eddy's stopped St. Joe by 9-8, 10-1 and 11-0, and Birdseye Maroons won two from McNess, 8-9, 11-4 and 6-1.

Civic league results—Eagles No. 2 dropped two to St. Ann's CYO, 9-6, 4-6, 2-6, the Press took three from Brackett's, 7-4, 12-1, 12-4, and Phoenix won the opener from Birdseye Local, 8-6, but was buried 17-5 and 14-1 in the last two.

GLADSTONE HOCKEY

Newberry and Gladstone will meet in a U. P. Hockey league game at the Gladstone rink at 2 Sunday afternoon. All Gladstone hockey players are asked to attend a meeting in the recreation building in Gladstone at 8 tonight.

St. Joseph's of Escanaba will be host to Gladstone high school for a tripleheader basketball program at Bonitas gym here tomorrow night. Coach Tom St. Germain's Trojans will see their first action since winning the U. P. parochial championship for the second time in Ironwood during the holidays.

The Saturday program follows: 6 p. m.—St. Joe girls vs. Gladstone girls, 7 p. m.—St. Joe reserves vs. Gladstone reserves, 8:30—Trojan varsity vs. Gladstone Brave varsity.

The Trojans will pit a 6-2 record against Gladstone's undefeated mark of five straight since the start of the season.

Both teams are sharp and a particularly fast game is in prospect. Gladstone walloped the Escanaba Eskymos, 62-33, last week, after which the Eskymos came back to nip Stephenson, 45-43, and St. Joe waltzed through the parochial meet like it owned it—53-40 over Sacred Heart of Laurium in the semifinals and 67-47 over St. Paul's of Negaunee in the finals.

Babe Anderson and Norman Slough will officiate the main game, Sam Schram the girls' tussle and Schram and Stan Abrahamson will work the reserve game.

GLADSTONE GOES TO STEPHENSON

Gladstone, Jan. 13—With towering Phil Creten a doubtful starter because of an ankle injury, the undefeated and untied Gladstone Braves take to the road for a three game stint in the next five days.

Creten practiced for a short time Thursday, the first time in several days, but his play was visibly affected by the injury.

Tonight the Braves will clash with Stephenson, Saturday night they take on the St. Joseph Parochials in a return game at Escanaba and next Tuesday evening travel to Munising.

The Braves, in chalking up five straight victories, have included wins over both St. Joseph and Munising. However, both of these games will prove tougher on foreign floors and Stephenson is reported to have an able quintet.

Making the trips will be Capt. Bill Rajala, Phil Creten, Paul Schram, Larry LaPlant, Richard Swenson, Dick Stead, Joe Sutter, Jim LaLonde, Les Young and John Syverstone.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Philadelphia—Laverne Roach, 160, Plainview, Tex., outpointed George Larover, 151, Philadelphia, 8.

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Billy Brown, 164½, Hartford, outpointed Tony Demko, 616, Schenectady, N. Y., 10.

Minneapolis—Glen Flanagan, 128, St. Paul, outpointed Bobby Carey, 127, Des Moines, 10.

Brooklyn (Broadway Arena)—Aldo Minelli, 148, Bergamo, Italy, stopped James Watkins, jr., 138, New Haven, 4.

Pittsburgh—Bill Bossio, 119, Lawrenceville, Pa., knocked out Willie Anderson, 120, Detroit, 6.

Portland, Me.—Bob Stecher, 158½, Portland, Me., outpointed Marc Begin, 159, Montreal, 10.

Fall River, Mass.—Bobby English, 127½, Fall River, outpointed Neco Ferry, 127, Fall River, 8.

Wilmington, Calif.—Joe Louis, 223, Detroit, and Clarence Henry, 181, Los Angeles, boxed four-round exhibition.

U. P. Golden Gloves Goes All Out To Lift Ban On Canadian Soo

The Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves tournament committee is conducting a vigorous campaign to secure the lifting of the suspension affecting Canadian Soo boxers who desire to compete in the Escanaba tournament January 23 and 24.

The Soo Boxing club desires to enter approximately eight boys in the Escanaba tournament, including a number of boxers who have pleased local fans in past years. They include Joey Brunette and Morley Ostertag, 126 pound open division contestants, Dick Nolan, 155 pound open, Frankie Nolan and Benny Pascuzzi, 135 pound open, Bernie Toma, 118 pound novice, A. Jocko, 135 pound novice, Bob Bumbacco, 126 pound novice.

The boys are affected by the blanket suspension directed against all Ontario AAU boxers by the American association AAU. Pleas have been made to Dan Ferris, AAU secretary in New York, to lift the suspension as it applies to the Soo, Ont., boxers.

In addition to pleas entered by Ken Gundersman, AAU commissioner in Northern Michigan, and Pat McIntyre, secretary of the Michigan AAU, petitions have been submitted by Charles Nevada, Milwaukee Journal Golden Gloves tournament manager, Peter Murphy, Milwaukee, secretary of the Wisconsin AAU, and by Wilfred Smith, Chicago Tribune Golden Gloves official.

It has been pointed out to Ferris that the Soo, Ont., boxers were not involved in the circumstances that led to the suspension of all boxers in the province of Ontario and that the suspension is unfair to them.

Eskymos Set For Maroons

Hopeful of making it two victories in a row but facing the tough task of beating Menominee on their own floor, the Escanaba Eskymos will journey to Menominee tonight to clash with a fast Maroon aggregation.

The reserves will play at 8 o'clock, Escanaba time, and the varsity game is slated for 9:30, Escanaba time. The latter game will be broadcast over WDBC, the Escanaba radio station.

Coach Hal Titus of the Maroons is reported to be quite concerned over Escanaba's showing against Stephenson. Its win over the Eagles considerably enhanced its prospect of taking the Maroons into camp, because the Eagles edged the Maroons earlier in the season.

Angott, Manager Hurt In Car Mishap

Frostburg, Md., Jan. 13 (AP)—Former lightweight champion Sammy Angott and Jack Laken, his manager, were injured last night in an automobile collision on an icy mountain road near here.

Harold (Baby Face) Jones, another boxer riding with them, was uninjured.

Laken was hurt seriously. At Miner's hospital here, doctors reported he had a possible fracture of the back, a hip injury and several fractured ribs.

Angott hurt his hip and bumped his head when he and Jones were thrown from their automobile after their car skidded into another vehicle, state police reported.

Angott was to return to the hospital today for x-rays.

Detroit Goalie Back In Action Today

Detroit, Jan. 13 (AP)—Harry Lumley, sorely missed by his Detroit Red Wings teammates, gets back into practice today for the first time since he sprained his ankle in an exhibition game more than a week ago.

There is a possibility that Lumley will be able to play Saturday when the Wings clash here with New York's flashy Rangers. In two games since the goal tender was injured, Detroit has lost twice, both times to Boston.

Tribute Paid To Athletics As Great Moral Influence

New York, Jan. 13 (AP)—Herbert Hoover, former president of the United States and also manager of Stanford's first football team, rated athletics next to religion last night as the outstanding phase of the American way of life.

Hoover spoke to 400 football coaches and their guests.

The gathering met at a dinner to honor Charles (Bud) Wilkinson of Oklahoma as coach of 1949.

Hoover paid high tribute to sports. He said: "Sports are still a free enterprise, and because of freedom, they have risen to a national purpose far more important than even their output of constructive joy."

"This growth over the years has been possible only because of their own rigid voluntary rules of right and wrong coupled with the training that success depends on team play. Thereby has the high purpose of sportsmanship become second only to religion as a moral influence in our country."

NO ONE HURT

Wilmington, Calif., Jan. 13 (AP)—Joe Louis boxed four easy rounds last night with Clarence Henry, Los Angeles Negro heavyweight.

Louis, weighing about 223, appeared sluggish and threw little but light lefts. Henry, 183, was aggressive only in spurts.

Needless to say, no one was hurt.

Ask for it either way... both trade-marks mean the same thing.

Bark River Lots Are Re-Surveyed

New Plats Filed At Courthouse

Bark River, Mich.—Two new supervisors' plats of the town of Bark River have been filed at the county courthouse in Escanaba, following approval of a recent re-survey of property here.

Loren Jenkins of Escanaba and a crew of seven spent six months here last year re-surveying lots in the community. The Bark River township board approved the plats Dec. 6.

Subsequently they were referred to the county board of supervisors, several county elective officials, the state highway commissioner, Charles M. Ziegler, and the state auditor general for approval. Final approval was made Dec. 27 by Mayme Jewell Purdy, deputy auditor general for the state.

The new plats, designed to assist the township assessor, simplify property descriptions and correct faulty measurements. When lots were first surveyed here, they were measured by pacing and thus many lot descriptions were awry. No property lines were changed.

Plans for a new township road on the south side of the community, from the south boundary of Warren Scarr's property south as far as the creamery, were made with the survey. No payments for acquiring property, nor definite moves to build the road have been made.

Bark River property owners whose lot descriptions were changed in the re-survey will get new deeds for their property.

Uranium Mining Permit Granted In Baraga Area

Lansing, Jan. 13 (P)—The state conservation commission today gave its first approval in history for uranium mining on state land.

The commission approved leasing the mining rights to 80 acres in northeast Baraga county to the Jones and Laughlin Ore company. The company reported the discovery of radioactive rock along the Huron river there last August.

The Atomic Energy Commission confirmed that the rock contained pitchblende, the parent ore of uranium, and authorized further exploration of the strike.

Under terms of the lease, the company must spend a minimum of $10 an acre for three years in exploration. If mining is begun, the state would be paid a royalty of 10 per cent of the value of the mined ores.

Queen Of North Committee Meets Here Tonight

Tom Tomlinson, chairman of the Escanaba division of the Queen of the North contest, has announced that there will be a meeting at 9 p. m. tonight in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office.

All candidates who have registered and all who wish to register are asked to be there. Information about the contest and registration assistance will be given. Pictures will be taken tonight.

Sunday Mrs. Stack Smith will accompany candidates to the Gladstone ski hill, if weather permits.

Candidates in the Queen of the North contest are judged for skiing and skating ability as well as personality and poise. The Upper Peninsula Queen of the North will be crowned in Escanaba, Sunday, Feb. 12.

Bitter Feud Grows On Enforcement Of Taft-Hartley Law

Washington, Jan. 13 (P)—A long-smouldering feud among the government officials who enforce the Taft-Hartley labor law was developing today into what looked like an open, bitter fight.

The four members of the National Labor Relations Board studied with concern a speech by the NLRB's own general counsel, Robert N. Denham, sharply critical of board decisions.

Denham told a construction industry employer group in New York last night that board members still figure the Taft-Hartley law will be repealed. Their decisions, he said, apparently are being fitted to "the present political climate."

Men Believed All Dead In Sunken British U-Boat

tanker Divina, whose ice-breaker prow tore into the torpedo compartment of the sub as it ran on the surface in the channel, said the craft sank within a minute after the crash.

The Truculent, which survived Japanese depth charges in the Pacific war, was on a trial run after being refitted.

She lay today in the narrow channel leading to one of the world's busiest ports. She was located 10 hours after she sank, six miles west of where she went down. Apparently she had been swept westward by the strong morning tide. She was roughly 50 miles east of London.

Commander Picked Up
The commander of the submarine, Lt. C. P. Bowers, was among those picked up in the water shortly after the crash. He and at least five others were believed to have been standing on deck when the two vessels collided.

The British admiralty began rescue operations almost immediately.

For ten hours no one knew exactly where the sub lay. Then powerful searchlights picked up the marker buoy attached to the submarine by a cable. It was the first indication that some of the submerged and trapped crew might be alive. The buoy could have been released by someone inside the sub.

The heavy mists lifted as dawn approached and divers went down at first light. All manner of rescue craft, including special ships equipped to raise the hulk from the muddy bottom, were at the scene of the operations. Search aircraft circled overhead looking for more possible survivors on the water's surface.

Aboard the Truculent on its ill-fated run were six officers, 52 seamen and 18 workmen from the Royal Naval dockyard.

The admiralty said there was enough underwater escape apparatus for every member of the sub's crew.

The Divina stayed in the area long enough to pick up eight of the survivors and two bodies. Five other survivors were picked up by the Dutch merchant vessel Almdijk, and then transferred to a launch. A lifeboat rescued two others. Only one was believed to have been injured.

The damaged Divina, whose prow was built like a battering ram to plough through Arctic sea ice, was escorted to Sheerness docks. It had been carrying a cargo of kerosene from Ipswich, Suffolk, to Puddfleet, Essex.

The Swedish master of the Divina, 47-year-old Captain Carl Homberg, said his crew had sighted the truculent only a minute before the crash. He showed signs of deep concern and nearly broke down as he told newsmen he didn't know why the crash occurred.

Board members, having read Denham's speech in advance, decided to say nothing "for the present." But it was learned they are hopping mad and are even considering carrying a complaint direct to President Truman.

Labor unions frequently have asked the White House to remove Denham, who was confirmed by the Senate for a four-year term running to December 1951.

Denham, now 64, got the job after a cowhand-lumberjack-banker-lawyer career. He has been a controversial figure ever since Mr. Truman named him as board general counsel when Taft-Hartley was enacted in 1947.

In his speech Denham listed a series of recent NLRB decisions with which he disagreed. He indicated he thought employers should appeal them to the courts.

Denham said that most of the NLRB's personnel, from board members on down, "still consists of persons who were raised in the philosophy and I think I may say, in the religion" of the old Wagner Act which Taft-Hartley changed.

Maintaining that the Wagner Act was designed to help labor at the expense of management, while Taft-Hartley is "balanced", Denham continued:

"When you have spent 10 years or so saturated with the statutory and administrative theory that one segment of our economic society must be protected, no matter what, and that the offsetting segment of that society must be saddled with the blame for everything that happens, even though the actual offender may frequently be found in the protected group, that scheme of thinking and acting is hard to eradicate."

Killer Of Two Men Gets Light Sentence At South Bend, Ind.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 13 (P)—John Klingaman, 70, of Walkerton, Ind., will receive a relatively light punishment for killing two men because the victims' relatives recommended mercy.

Klingaman fatally shot Ora Jackson, 71, and his cousin, Lester Jackson, 53, both of Walkerton, last July. Police said he explained the men had teased him for years, accusing him of killing a rabbit out of season.

In superior court yesterday Judge J. Elmer Peake asked six relatives of the dead men if they would be satisfied if Klingaman pleaded guilty to a charge of voluntary manslaughter. They all agreed. The elderly man entered the plea and was sentenced to two to 21 years in prison. He had been charged with first degree murder in the slayings.

Williams Talks About Need For New Taxes

East Lansing, Jan. 13 (P)—Governor Williams charged last night that the Republicans are just as willing as he is to increase taxes.

But, he said, he and the Republicans differ on whether consumers or corporations should pay more taxes.

The governor addressed the Michigan agricultural conference following dedication of Michigan State College's new plant science

"We had a terrible night," he said.

The Truculent, which displaces 1,575 tons when submerged, was bound for Sheerness dockyards when the crash occurred.

The Truculent is a 273-foot "T" class submarine completed in 1942 for general service and capable of staying out 45 days on patrol. It is believed she has the latest "schnorkel" equipment permitting her to stay submerged for longer hours.

Vincennes, Ind. Blast Kills 5

Residents Of Housing Project Nervous

Vincennes, Ind., Jan. 13 (P)—Residents of the Bowman Terrace Federal Housing Project watched nervously today as authorities started an investigation to determine the cause of an explosion which killed five members of two families.

Coroner Paul Strate said officials of the Federal Housing Administration planned to come here to join in the probe. Fire Chief Dewey Shepherd also was conducting an inquiry.

Authorities agreed a gas explosion of some kind was responsible for demolishing a two-family structure and killing two young mothers and three children yesterday. Shepherd said he believed it was an accumulation of either natural gas or sewer gas under the floor of the basement-less house.

The structure was one of 42 such units closely grouped in the project.

The dead were Mrs. Wanda M. Cooper, 23; her two children, Charles Wayne Cooper, 5, and Barbara Jo Cooper, 3; Mrs. Rose Overfelt, 21, and her daughter, Vickie June, 18 months.

The explosion leveled the one-story concrete block structure and blasted a crater several feet deep in the ground where the house had stood. Ten other units in the project were damaged, four seriously. Debris was thrown as far as a city block.

Soldiers from Fort Knox, Ky., here on flood duty, dug the bodies out of the rubble. First on the scene were Capt. James Compton and Lt. Paul Keene, who were taking pictures at the floodwall on the Wabash river, two blocks away.

Leaders of both parties recognize, Williams said, that "we are inevitably going to run out of money during 1950."

"Don't let anybody tell you that it is a question of a corporation profits tax (which he advocates) or no additional taxes," the governor said. "The real truth is that both sides of this revenue controversy see the need for additional revenues and are advocating additional taxes. The only difference between us is over the question of where the additional revenues come from."

Escanaba Gridders To Hear Lujack Jan. 30

Johnny Lujack, the Chicago Bears' great quarterback who was a two-time all-American at Notre Dame, joins a long list of distinguished athletes, coaches and speakers who have appeared before high school football players of Escanaba at the annual football recognition dinner here.

Lujack will be the speaker at the eighteenth annual grid dinner at St. Joseph's dining hall at 6:30 Monday night, Jan. 30, which is sponsored by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and Escanaba businessmen.

Football players of the Escanaba high school and St. Joseph's parochial school squads will be guests of honor at the affair.

Coaches and assistants also will be honored.

Among those who have spoken here are Bennie Oosterbaan, present University of Michigan coach; Fritz Crisler, Wolverine athletic director; Don Hutson, former Green Bay Packer great; Clarence Munn and Forrest Evashevski, of the Michigan State university coaching staff; Bernie Bierman, University of Minnesota coach; Lynn Waldorf, former Northwestern and present University of California coach; Harry Kipke, former Michigan coach, and such well known figures as Wally Weber, Jimmy Conzelmann, Alvin Wistert, Dom Tomasi, Jim Crowley, Harry Stuhldreher, Arch Ward and Charles Bachman.

Last year, 34 St. Joseph's and 46 Escanaba high school gridders and their coaches heard talks by Wistert and Tomasi. Munn and Evashevski were here in 1948. Three hundred regular tickets are now on sale at several downtown business establishments. In addition to the regular tickets, the committee in charge has made special arrangements to accommodate fathers who would like to bring their sons to hear Lujack.

In addition to buying a regular ticket, a father who desires to take his son to the dinner may also buy a special ticket at a reduced rate which will admit his son.

Reservations may be made by telephoning the Chamber of Commerce, 1100, or Claude Tobin, Jr., at 41.

Adult Skating Party—The second adult skating party of the season will be held at the Escanaba indoor rink tomorrow night, beginning at 7 and continuing until 10. More than 50 attended the first party last week. Music is provided over the public address system by the city recreation department. Refreshments will be served.

It would give the state power to audit the case records of all county welfare departments to determine whether they are obeying the voluntary relief rules filed by each county.

It also would require a relief applicant to be a resident for three years to obtain help, rather than one year as at present. Another provision would require an applicant to secure the help of friends of the courts to obtain alimony before receiving relief, and would insist that relief applicants not be receiving or be eligible for unemployment compensation.

Chambers Described As Chronic Liar At Hiss Perjury Trial

New York, Jan. 13 (P)—A second mental expert has testified that Alger Hiss is the target of an abnormal accuser who tries to "smear, degrade and destroy a valued person."

This description of Whittaker Chambers, the government's star witness at Hiss' second perjury trial, was given yesterday by defense witness Dr. Henry Alexander Murray.

Dr. Murray, Harvard University psychologist, backed almost point by point a previous analysis by psychiatrist Carl A. L. Binger that Chambers is a psychopathic personality and chronic liar.

Dr. Murray said an analysis of Chambers' accusations against Hiss shows that the story grew each time he told it over several years. Chambers told of serving as courier for a pre-war Russian spy ring. He said Hiss fed him secret state department documents for the ring.

Hiss denied this accusation and was indicted for perjury.
